The Apostles' Creed – Second Article

I believe in Jesus Christ, God's only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried; he descended to the dead. On the third day he rose again; he ascended into heaven, he is seated at the right hand of the Father, and he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I took our cat to the emergency vet late one summer night. As I pulled into the parking lot, I saw a car covered in magnetic signs. Several Bible verses threatened me with eternal damnation for my wickedness. Others challenged me to reflect on whether I was saved or not. Apparently, I missed it when Nissan released their Holy Roller model. As if my cat's health problems weren't enough, the driver of this car was trying to scare me to Jesus.

Scare tactics have been a time-honored way to recruit people for Jesus. Since it's Reformation month, we might remember Johann Tetzel whose fantastic Judgement Day dramas terrorized German townspeople into purchasing indulgences. While the Reformers firmly believed that a correct understanding of Original Sin was necessary for understanding the gospel, they also proclaimed salvation as the domain of God alone.

One of the great discoveries, or rather, one of the great rediscoveries of the Reformation was that salvation is not the goal of our faith. Salvation is the beginning of our faith. This message is the good news the church has been sent to proclaim. Think of it like this. Some Christians believe the world is on death row waiting to be saved. Personal faith in Jesus is the key which unlocks the cell door releasing us from our fate. Lutherans believe that Jesus flung the door wide open and emptied death row without regard for our merit or personal faith. Personal faith in Jesus is our joyful response to this good news.

A life that believes in Jesus is a life that trusts Jesus. It's a life that acknowledges the truth of what God has done in Jesus for the sake of the world. It's a life that boldly struggles against the forces which threaten us and our neighbors with death. It's a life that joyfully shares what it has received. May we have such faith and such life in us this Reformation season.
