but not until 1898 was the church completed as it now stands, with the exception of the church parlors, built at a later date. The Immanuel church was dedicated in 1899 by the late Rt. Rev. K. Bjorge.

Others who joined later were Tosten Ostenson and Knut Waugh. The present membership of the congregation constitute sons and daughters of the pioneer builders.

The congregation has an active Ladies' Aid, Willing Workers Sewing Circle, Luther League and Sunday school. And the splendid financial help given the congregation by these organizations is worthy of praise.

While the early pioneers are now resting from their labors, we pray, that we their sons and daughters may honor their memory, by carrying on the work which they so nobly begun, to the glory of God and to the salvation of souls.
