Module 1: What Is Energy Reading?

Energy reading is the ability to sense and interpret the subtle vibrations that flow through all living beings. This module introduces what energy is, how it moves, and why learning to read it opens a gateway to intuition and healing. You'll discover how ancient cultures practiced energy awareness, and how modern students can develop the same gift.

Module 2: The Aura and Subtle Body Layers

The aura is more than a glow around the body — it is a multi-layered energy field that reveals emotions, thoughts, and vitality. This lesson explores the physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual layers of the aura, and how to begin perceiving them through sight, sensation, and inner awareness.

Module 3: Chakras as Energy Gateways

Chakras are spinning centers that regulate the flow of energy in and out of the body. This module introduces the chakra system in the context of energy reading, showing how blockages or imbalances can be felt and understood as signals of deeper patterns.

Module 4: Feeling Energy with the Hands

Your hands are natural energy sensors. This module provides simple, practical exercises to feel energy fields, detect warmth, tingling, or resistance, and begin to map the aura. It is the first step in turning theory into direct, lived experience.
