

Past Presidents, MEA-Retired, 1952-2025

Robert Jean President, 2023-2025

Bob Jean of Rockland served as MEA Retired President from 2023-2025. He grew up in Biddeford, Maine and graduated from Biddeford High School in 1975. His parents moved to Maine from Quebec with lots of other Franco-Americans who settled here to work in the textile mills. Although they had very little formal schooling, they stressed the importance of education to their children.

Upon high school graduation Bob attended the University of Maine at Farmington where he majored in Emotional Disturbance and Elementary Education. His teaching career began with a 3 year stint at the Bancroft North School for emotionally disturbed students located in Owls Head. Following that, he became the K-3 Resource Room teacher at the Lura Libby School in Thomaston for ten years. Bob loved working with these kids but desired a classroom of his own. An opportunity arose at the St. George School in Tenants Harbor. It was a third grade position that would last for 25 years closing out the 38-year career in education. There was also a 10 year stretch where he taught Adult Ed. as a GED Prep instructor in the evenings.

Joining a union was never a question! At MSAD #50 Bob served as a Building Rep, Treasurer, and Secretary. It made sense that moving up the leadership ladder was the next logical step. Bob served as MSAD#50 Education Association President for 13 years until district consolidation prompted him to step down.

Upon retirement, Bob joined the Knox County Retired Educators Assn. (KCREA) and MEA Retired. He served as KCREA President for 4 years before becoming more involved with MEA Retired.

Organizations other than education were also very important to him. Bob was a volunteer with the American Cancer Society's Relay For Life program for twenty years serving as a committee member and as an event organizer for the Camden Relay. He also was on the Jean Team in the York County Relay where his family participated and was always top fundraisers for the event.

Another organization he was proud to volunteer for was the Area Interfaith Organization (AIO) food pantry's Weekend Backpack Program, which insured that students who needed it would go home on Fridays with a backpack containing at least three meals for their families for the weekend.

Bob never once regretted the career choices he made and will always do his best to support public education and encourage those who are considering a career in the field.

Gary McGrane
President, 2021-2023

Gary McGrane of Jay began his education career teaching elementary students the history of the Penobscot Nation. As a member of the University of Maine Professional Staff Association (UMPSA), Gary became a member of MEA and then MEA-Retired upon his retirement from the Bureau of Labor Education. He was OSHA project coordinator and treasurer of UMPSA. A member of the Franklin County Retired Educators Association, Gary is past president of MEA-Retired. In addition, Gary is a member of the Higher Education Association of Retirees (HEAR) and has just begun a term in 2024-2025 as their treasurer. He served a term on the Town of Jay Board of Selectmen and was Franklin County commissioner for District One for 28 years. Gary represented Franklin County communities on the Maine Municipal Association as a member of the Legislative Policy Committee. He and his wife Deb have three children and 11 grandchildren.

Kay Grindall
President, 2019-2021

Kay Grindall served as president of the MEA-Retired Association in 2019-2021— throughout the unprecedented time of the Covid-19 pandemic. She found innovative ways to communicate, hold meetings, and inspire others to step forward for the Association. It was under her tenure that our pre-retirement seminars moved from in-person to virtual via Zoom. Her time as president had many extraordinary circumstances, and she devoted her time and energy to overcome whatever the obstacles were. Because of her dedication and perseverance, MEA-Retired was stronger and ready to meet the various challenges.

Kay graduated magna cum laude with a Bachelor's degree in business education from Thomas College and earned a master's degree in education from the University of Maine. She taught English, journalism, and business education courses at Waterville High School for 30 years. She was also a part-time adjunct professor of accounting at Thomas College for ten years.

She was advisor to the high school newspaper, The Panther Press. In conjunction with the University of Maine and personnel at the Waterville Morning Sentinel, Kay organized and hosted annual statewide high school journalism conferences for many years.

She was chosen Maine's "Business Educator of the Year" in 2000 and was the recipient of a faculty "Renaissance" Award for her excellence in the classroom and her service to students and colleagues.

Kay served on the Waterville Recertification Governing Board from 1988 thru her retirement in 2008. Waterville was a state-sponsored pilot district, and she served as chairperson for the last 10 years. She was treasurer and newsletter editor for the Waterville Teachers Association for 28 years and became a life member of NEA in 1986. She served on MEA's Strategic Budget Committee and Resolutions Committee and has been a delegate to many MEA and NEA Representative Assemblies.

Upon retirement in 2008, she joined MEA-Retired where she served on the Board of Directors as corresponding secretary, second vice president, president-elect, and then president of MEA-Retired for the 2019-2021 biennium.

Since 2011, she has served as the editor of The Clarion, MEA-Retired's bimonthly newsletter which has garnered national notoriety from NEA-Retired.

She is also past president of Kennebec Retired Educators Association and is its current Membership Committee chairperson. Kay has been a member of the Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma International since 1994—a society of women educators. She is secretary of Kappa chapter.

In 2003, Kay founded Shorthand Writers of Maine which has had more than 200 members registered in many states and as far away as Australia. Two-thirds or more of the members are retired business educators.

Her husband Richard spent 40 years in law enforcement, retiring as chief of police in Winslow. They remain active members of their church. They have two married daughters (both educators) and two grandchildren. The Grindalls live in Oakland.

Kay's passion to work for students and educators has been a lifetime journey and will continue throughout her life. She truly is very deserving of this high honor.

Corley Anne Byras President, 2017-2019

Corley Anne Byras graduated from Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio in 1962 with a Bachelor of Science in Education degree and a major in religious education. She taught eighth grade in Whitehall, Ohio (a suburb of Columbus) for three years. As a first year teacher she represented the Whitehall Teachers Association at the NEA-Assembly in 1963, held in Chicago.

While her future husband was stationed at Lockborne Air Force Base they were married and thus began traveling as he served the United States Air Force for twenty-three years.

While he was stationed at Ernest Harmon Air Force Base, Newfoundland, she began years of substitute teaching. She served the Girl Scouts and was awarded the Juliet Lowe Award for her contributions. She was a Sunday School teacher and a Family Services volunteer.

The next station was Carswell Air Force Base in Ft. Worth. The newsletter that she produced for Family Services was judged second in an Air Force Times Competition.

At Pease Air Force Base, Portsmouth, New Hampshire, she instituted for Family Services a layette program for young airmen and their families. She produced their newsletter and was selected as Family Services Volunteer of the year. She was selected as the enlisted military wife of the year. Corley was the Community Girl Scout leader for thirteen troops and co-chaired the base thrift shop. Teaching English classes for foreign wives was a special opportunity she thoroughly enjoyed.

George retired in 1979 and the family built their home in Bowdoin to raise their four children who would all graduate from Mt. Ararat High School. Steve, a graduate of Colby College is at Bath Iron Works, Stephanie, a graduate of the University of Southern Maine, is Student Service Coordinator at the Capital Area Technical Center, Grant, a graduate of the University of Maine, is a chemical engineer, and Treon, a graduate of Bentley College, is a financial software consultant.

Corley Anne substituted in the Brunswick and MSAD 75 schools for five years and her last year as a substitute taught 140 days. In 1984 she began her 18 years at Mt. Ararat High School as the library secretary and later became part of a three member team to coordinate the computer center. For ten of those years she was co- advisor to the junior high student council. Her last three years at Mt. Ararat she was advisor to the yearbook. She also taught teacher recertification classes using computers through the adult education program.

She served in the offices of several organizations including, the Order of the Eastern Star in 2015-16 as Worthy Grand Matron after serving ten years as its Grand Secretary, Past Regent of the Burnt Meadow Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, as a Cub Scout Den Mother and treasurer for the Bowdoin Boy Scouts, and many years as lecturer for the Sagadahoc Grange. She is a member of MAR and has served as their By-Law Chairman. And wherever she has lived has been active in her church.

Upon retirement in 2001, she became a member of the Mid- Coast Retired Educators Association and served as its president. For two years she was the convention chairman for MEA-Retired, and then served as President-Elect and as its President 2017-2019.

Thomas H. Moore III (Deceased)
President, 2015-2017

Tom is a graduate of the University of Maine at Orono, having earned a B.A. in Romance Languages (French and Spanish) in 1963. He attended Middlebury College and received his M.A. in Spanish in 1972. Many summers were spent in studies inside and outside of the United States. Tom's career as an educator has had him travel to many places to learn and teach. His first teaching job was at Hamilton-Wenham Regional High School in Hamilton, Massachusetts. He later taught at Maine's Fryeburg Academy, where he also served as the dorm master of Webster Hall. He's taught at Gardiner Area High School, was an Elementary Spanish instructor in the Evening Adult and Continuing Education Program at the University of Maine, went on to William Penn Charter School, Pennsylvania, for four years as a Spanish and French teacher, and then on for fourteen years at the Germantown Academy in Fort Washington, Pennsylvania before returning to Maine to finish the last 12 years of his career teaching Spanish and French at Upper Kennebec Valley High School in Bingham. Throughout his career he provided his students opportunities in foreign travel and unique learning opportunities, such as participation in a Model U.N. session in the General Assembly Hall. In addition to teaching World Languages, he has taught World Geography and served as an Advisor to the student exchange for both the American Field Service and the International Fellowship, Inc.

Tom Moore was appointed by the MEA Board of Directors in 2004 to serve as Director for District C and then elected to a three-year term the following year to serve a total of four years as an active teacher on the MEA Board. Tom has always been proactive and served on many MEA Board Committees. He has been both an alternate and delegate to the MEA Representative Assembly, a delegate to the NEA Representative Assembly, and as a MEA-Retired delegate to the NEA-Retired Annual Meeting and the NEA Representative Assembly. He served on the MEA Statewide Bargaining Committee and then held offices on the MEA-Retired Board, including 2nd Vice President from 2011 to 2013, 1st Vice President from 2013 to 2015 and President from 2015 to 2017. He was elected in 2017 to a three-year term on the MEA Board of Directors, District R, representing MEA-Retired.

Tom continues to be an active advocate for educators and retired educators on a state and national level. He has served as the president of his local affiliate, the Somerset Education Association Retired (SEAR) and is the editor of its newsletter, the Electromediagram, which he launched in 2009.

He was married to Hildegard M. Franke, a German citizen for 9 years, they had one son, Manuel Happen Moore, who lives with his wife in Germany. In his spare time he has been an active member of the Sandy River and Rangeley Lakes Railroad, a non-profit educational organization and museum located in Phillips, Maine. He volunteered as train conductor and museum docent and has served as their president.

Laurance (Larry) Given President, 2013-2015

Larry was born in Island Falls during the time of the great fire on Mount Desert Island and grew up on a farm in Southern Aroostook County. Having grown up there, he quickly learned the importance of hard work and being responsible. He attended local public schools and decided in third grade he would like to become a teacher. His teaching aunt can be credited with influencing this career interest. In 1965 he graduated from Island Falls High School and went on to attend Farmington State Teachers College, graduating in 1969 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Secondary Education, with a major in Mathematics and a minor in History.

His first teaching job was at the Emerson School with the Richmond School Department, teaching in grades 6 through 8. He vividly remembers being asked to join the MEA and NEA day one of his teaching career by his teaching mentor. In addition to teaching math, social studies, reading and outdoors physical education, he coached basketball, and began a "Pee Wee" basketball program with a colleague. Later in his career, while teaching math at the junior high level, he took on administrative responsibilities and became the athletic director for the Richmond Junior and Senior High School. At the same time he was chosen to serve on the Class B, C, and D basketball committee of the State Principal's Association.

Following a move to teach high school math, Larry began to attend state and regional MEA and NEA conferences, and became active in his local association, taking on the job as chair of the Negotiations Committee and President of the Richmond Teachers (Education) Association.

Continuing work on his own professional development, he got involved with the 'tech prep' movement and began incorporating Tech Prep I and Tech Prep II into the math curriculum. Larry was also involved in reviewing and adopting Geometry Tech Prep modules with other educators around the country. Because of his concern for meeting the needs of his students, he provided additional opportunities for them to pick up math credits by offering additional classes. This was recognized and appreciated by his students who on several occasions nominated him for 'Who's Who Among America's Teachers.'

Throughout his career, Larry has been active with the Maine Education Association, attending state and national conferences, and serving on various committees and boards. After retiring he became active with Kennebec Retired Educators Association and was elected President for two terms, 2007-2011. He then served as 2nd Vice President for the Maine Education Association Retired from 2009-2011, 1st Vice President from 2011-2013, and President from 2013-2015. Larry has continued to be active with MEA-Retired serving as immediate Past President, and as the chair of the Policy Committee. He has also been active in his local community, volunteering with the Litchfield Food Pantry.

Marguerite Newberg President, 2011-2013

Peg Newberg lives with her husband, Don, in Harpswell where they raised two boys who now live with their families in Maine. Peg graduated from Boston University in 1959 and went on to teach fourth grade in Lincoln, MA. Always the social activist, she involved other staff to speak out for equal pay for equal work, and for female dress codes that made sense for bus/recess duty! During this time, Peg became a developer, trainer, and consultant for Elementary Science Studies through EDC, a think-tank with national scope.

Her next stop was Louisa, Virginia in 1965 working as a Title 1 Director for the segregated public schools, flying to Washington, DC to train black teachers in Science and Social Studies, and helping black women in rural Virginia through the local NAACP.

There would be two more adventures before coming to Maine in 1976. Val D'or, Quebec, Canada, consulting in both English and French schools and then off to Hamilton, NY. Peg earned a MA in Sociology from Colgate University which allowed her to turn to her passion for History and teaching at the Secondary Level.

In Maine, Peg taught History and Social Studies at Mt. Ararat Middle and High Schools. She was President of Merrymeeting Educators Association, President of the New England History Teachers Association and a member of the Harpswell Democratic Committee.

At present, Peg is an avid gardener, political activist, a member of Harpswell Aging At Home steering committee and Food/Chores Sub-Group, volunteer for the Harpswell Food Mobile, and the Harpswell Common Garden. She also gets in quality time with her four grandchildren.

Gweneth Strout (Deceased)
President, 2009-2011

Gweneth Faulkingham (Mrs. Richard) Strout received her BS from UMM and MA in Education from UMO.

Gwen raised her two girls as a stay at home mom until they were in third and fifth grades respectively, and then she began her commute from home fifty miles a day to get her education in Machias. Once she had attained that, she drove the hundred and fifty miles to Orono and back nights and summers until she had the advanced degree, while maintaining the home and family, and teaching full time.

Gwen began her teaching experience as a fifth grade teacher at Milbridge Elementary, and during the seventh year there, she was also the teaching principal. She transferred to Narraguagus High School and became a member of the English Department. She remained there for eighteen years, and for seven of those years she also taught Driver's Education as a summer program.

Gwen has coached girls basketball and cheerleading, Jr. Speaking, and directed Adult Education. She has been active in church, taught Sunday School, sung in the choir, and played in the orchestra.

Gwen actively participated in community affairs: she was a member and officer of Harrington's Extension Service for over thirty years and participated in fund-raisers for the local schools. Presently, Gwen is director, treasurer and secretary for Gallison Memorial Library.

Professionally, Gwen became active in MSAD 37 Teachers Association, serving as president and chief negotiator for several years. She has belonged to Delta Kappa Gamma International since 1978, and has held both local and state offices.

In retirement Gwen has actively participated in Washington County's RTA and held several offices including president. Gwen received the MRTA Volunteer Leadership Award in 2001. She has been an officer in MEA-R since 2005, serving as 2nd Vice President, 1st Vice president, and President (2009-2011).

Gwen and her husband have traveled to Alaska and throughout all the Canadian Provinces and many parts of Maine in their motor home since her retirement. They enjoy their two children and two grandchildren and have made their home in Harrington for over fifty years. Gwen also enjoys many hobbies including art, sewing, baking, and reading.

Representative Assembly. She represents MRTA on the Executive Committee of the state AARP. She is also a trustee of the Maine State Retirement System.

In 2001, she received a Distinguished Service Award from the Maine Council of Senior Citizens. She is an active member of her church community. She is a lector, Eucharistic Minister, has served on her parish council as well as various committees within her parish and the Diocese of Portland. She is a volunteer at the Wayside Soup Kitchen.

Marilyn Hall, Oakland President, 2003-2005

Marilyn Miller (Mrs. Albert) Hall graduated from Hampden Academy. She received her Bachelor of Science degree in Home Economics from Farmington State Teachers College and was awarded a Masters of Education from the University of Maine at Orono.

She started teaching at Waterville Senior High School in 1958 but with the arrival of a daughter she changed grade levels and taught a Kindergarten in 1961. Soon after two more daughters arrived and she took a leave from public school teaching for the next ten years from 1964 to 1974. During the ten years she was an at home mother, she ran a private nursery school in her home and then at a local church.

Union #52 needed a first grade teacher in late August of 1974 so she returned to public school teaching. The next twenty years she taught in the Winslow school system, in First Grade, Pre-First and Second Grade. Six of those years were spent in a portable classroom but the last three and a half years were in a brand new, beautiful elementary school.

During her years of teaching in Winslow, she was active in the local community as a member of the Waterville Historical Society, Waterville Parent Teacher Organization, Waterville Woman's Association (granting scholarships to girls and women), Girl's Club Parent Group, Girl Scout Leader and Band Parent's Group. While teaching in Winslow she was a member of MEA and treasurer of the Winslow Education Association, member of the Winslow Parent Teacher Organization, served on numerous curriculum committees and developed the first Pre-One Curriculum for Winslow. She was a substitute teacher at the elementary school, did achievement testing for Winslow, and wrote comprehension passages for Measured Progress Testing Company. She and her husband had a small antique business. She does story hour once a month at the Oakland Public Library.

Upon retirement in 1994 she became active in MRTA as Community Participation Chair, Corresponding Secretary, Second Vice-president, First Vice-president and as President. She has been treasurer and president of Kennebec County Retired Teachers Association.

She and her husband traveled throughout the United States, Canada, Europe and part of Asia. All of her trips were exciting but the two-week Samantha Smith sponsored trip to Russia was the most memorable and re-awarding. Upon returning home from Russia she vowed to never, ever complain about anything again.
