METRO MANILA SOUTH

The Southern District of Metro Manila is home to some of the most dynamic cities in the Philippines, namely Makati, Paranaque, Las Pinas and Muntinlupa. Makati City is the financial center of the Philippines that hosts a residential population of 583,000, while its weekday population swells to a staggering 3.7 million due to the large influx of professionals and visitors. Makati remains an aspirational residential address for many. Paranaque and Las Pinas are highly urbanized cities, where exclusive villages are located. Paranaque is also the location of the primary local and international airports, making this city a local and international gateway. Muntinlupa houses several of the expansive, most exclusive and most expensive residential communities in the country. But aside from these posh communities, Muntinlupa has several dynamic commercial and business districts, that house a roster of both multinational and local companies making this city, very progressive.
