January 2026

President's Byline

Thank you to my Plano Republican Women sisters for allowing me to serve as your new president. I am at your service. Thank you to the amazingly talented Cleo Marchese for her incredible leadership to our club during her tenure as president. Cleo, we applaud you.

In 2025 PRW saw many accolades, celebrations, and awards for our club: Staci Weaver was elected to the Collin College Board of Trustees; at the CCGOP Lincoln Day Dinner, Shelby Johnston won the Dixie Clem Award, Cleo won the Chairman's Award, and Catherine Gibb won the prestigious John McVeigh Award; PRW was awarded the Diamond Award at the NFRW Convention and the John Tower Award at the TFRW convention, and I was truly humbled to be awarded the TFRW 10 Outstanding Republican Women Award.

We are grateful. We pray that you and yours are blessed with a healthy, prosperous, and happy 2026. The November election will be upon us in the blink of an eye. Our club will be poised and ready to get our Republican candidates elected up and down the ballot!

Blessings,

Kathy Ward

COOPER ELLE RODENBURG

At the age of 21, Cooper Elle Rodenburg is one of the youngest CEOs in American history.

Born in Georgia, and raised in South Carolina, Virginia and finally, Florida, she has uniquely experienced much of what our great country has to offer.

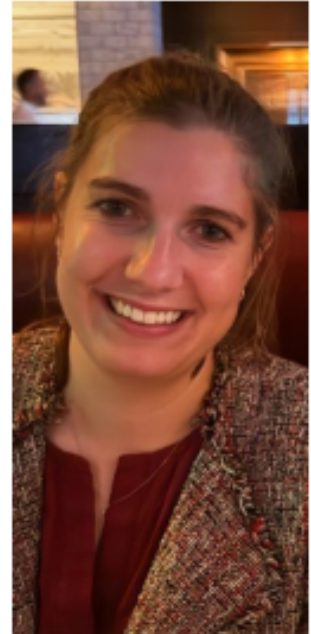

Cooper's first challenge came soon after she was born, when both her ears quickly went underwater, and she could not develop the sounds of letters, let alone words or their pronunciations. With more than six years of speech therapy, grit, and God's grace, she was able to overcome this disability.

After winning a full academic scholarship to attend, she graduated summa cum laude in Politics and Media from Stetson University.

There she served as President of three organizations - the College Republicans, Young America's Foundation (YAF) and the Tennis Club. She quickly fell out of favor with university administration once they learned that she would not surrender or apologize for her conservative, America-first worldview.

Under the tutelage of Ambassador-designate Nick Adams, she learned the world of politics, books, civics education, fundraising and American greatness.

As CEO of FLAG, Cooper has worked with the White House, Secretary of Education and AFPI to ensure that the next generation of Americans love and understand their country and the Constitution. FLAG has reached more than 2 Million K-12 students with its resources.

PRAYER TO BEGIN 2026

Whether Christian or Jew, we have just celebrated seasons of HOPE and Light!!! Let us remember and live that out every day of 2026.

Almighty, everlasting creator of ALL things good, we come to you in honor and praise. Help us to be your light and know that we have HOPE in a world that changes and has unknowns. May we remember that YOU are ever present and all knowing. YOU never change, YOU are the same yesterday, today and tomorrow. YOU are our anchor and rock, a tower of strength for us always. YOU are available 24-7 and we need to come to YOU first—to PRAY, WAIT and TRUST. Your timing is perfect even when we struggle with the waiting. Help us to be more like YOU - LOVING, CARING, FORGIVING, and HELPING. Help us to have Patience, Joy, Peace, Kindness, Goodness, Gentleness and Self-control. May we grow in our faithfulness in 2026, may it deepen and broaden. YOU will protect and provide. YOU are the GOD of HOPE, and we can TRUST in YOU!!! YOU already know what 2026 will bring. Give us your wisdom and strength to do what is right in your eyes. Thank you for the HOPE we have because of YOU. YOU will never leave us or forsake us. Your desire is to have a relationship with us, and I pray we develop or extend that. YOU need to be FIRST above all others and everything else. YOU are our HOPE and the HOPE of the world.

Amen

GOVERNOR'S 5 POINT PROPERTY TAX RELIEF PLAN:

Require Common Sense Local Spending Limits

Require Two-Thirds Voter Approval for Tax Increases

Empower Voters to Roll Back Taxes

Create Appraisal Predictability and Cap Appraisal Growth

Eliminate School Property Taxes for Homeowners

For the first item (Require Common Sense Local Spending Limits) the Governor wants to do this by limiting spending to population plus inflation or 3.5% whichever is less.

For the second item (Require Two-Thirds Voter Approval for Tax Increases) the Governor wants to require all property tax increases to be voted on by the citizens. Also, the vote must win a two-thirds majority before the tax increase can take effect.

For item three (Empower Voters to Roll Back Taxes) if 15% of registered voters in a local area sign a petition, they can force a roll back election to lower tax rates.

For item four (Create Appraisal Predictability and Cap Appraisal Growth) the Governor wants appraisals done every five years instead of every year. He also wants the homestead appraisal cap to go from 10% to 3%, and to expand it to all properties, not just homesteads.

For item five (Eliminate School Property Taxes for Homeowners) will require a constitutional amendment.

AMERICANISM REPORT

by Ellen Leyrer

THE POWER OF STATE SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY OVER THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

JANUARY 1, 2026

James Iredell, William Paca, and other ratifiers of the Constitution were clear that the federal judiciary was not supreme over the states. It took Joseph Story and John Marshall to begin the long slide into centralized power that exists today—an outcome founders like Iredell and Paca explicitly warned against.

On this day in 1751, James Iredell was born. A brilliant figure of the founding era, he was a writer and young legal prodigy who played an integral role in North Carolina's transition from colonialism to republicanism.

Just before the American War for Independence, Iredell penned the pamphlet To the Inhabitants of Great Britain, which articulated his constitutional arguments against the British concept of parliamentary sovereignty. That principle—incorporated into Britain's unwritten constitution following the Glorious Revolution—held that parliamentary policies superseded any sectional power balances held by Britain's colonies and its king.

In support of the finalized United States Constitution, Iredell's most significant contribution to North Carolina's ratification campaign was his insistence that state governments would retain their existing judicial authority under the new constitutional framework. He described the Constitution as an instrument designed to prevent the federal government from encroaching upon matters outside its defined jurisdiction: "When Congress passes a law consistent with the Constitution, it is to be binding on the people. If Congress, under pretense of executing one power, should, in fact, usurp another, they will violate the Constitution."

Unlike some of his more famous and ambitious Federalist peers, Iredell's greatest distinction was his consistency. He remained firmly committed to the constitutional principles he articulated during the ratification debates. Reflecting this commitment, he was appointed as one of George Washington's original six Supreme Court justices and served on the Court until his death in 1799.

Iredell's most consequential post-ratification stance emerged in his dissent in the 1793 case Chisholm v. Georgia, an early attempt to expand the authority of the federal judiciary over the states. His reasoning helped spur Congress and the states to draft and ratify the Eleventh Amendment, which overturned the Court's opinion and reaffirmed the doctrine of state sovereign immunity against federal overreach.

Building Republican Strength Through Primaries

Part 1 of a 3-Part Series

By Michael Slaughter, Candidate-Elect Collin County Commissioner Pct 2

The Purpose of Primaries

As we approach the midterm primaries, the excitement and often chaos of campaign season begins. We all expect the texts and postcards as well as a parade of candidates at our meetings, but unfortunately, we've also come to expect mudslinging and exaggerated claims. This series aims to discuss those issues and remind us of the true purpose of primaries.

Healthy Competition, Not Hostility

Contested elections are a cornerstone of our system; they allow candidates to present their vision and give voters a choice. Passionate debate is healthy, but we must remember that primaries are about selecting the candidate who best represents our values, not an avenue to tear each other down. Every voter casts a ballot based on personal priorities, and that diversity strengthens our party.

Campaign with Integrity and Get Involved

As campaigning ramps up, let's focus on ideas and accomplishments rather than personal attacks. If there's a legitimate concern about an opponent, back it up with proof. Think of it like applying for a job: you highlight your strengths, not tear down every other applicant. Elections with choices aren't a problem; they're a privilege. So get involved, encourage your friends and neighbors to participate, support the candidate who best aligns with your values, and most importantly, get out and vote. Remember: When the primaries are over, we must unite behind our Republican nominee because there is no Democrat who is better than a Republican candidate. November is about keeping each seat RED. No seat belongs to an incumbent, candidate, elected official, or a single person but rather to the voters.

GOP GUEST ARTICLE

Thank you to the Plano Republican Women for allowing me to share this as part one of my three part series.

"History does not long entrust the care of freedom to the weak or the timid."

– Dwight D. Eisenhower

"Liberty cannot be preserved without a general knowledge among the people."
