About Curio Training & Research Institute (CTRI)

Curio Training & Research Institute (CTRI), a constituent unit of CliMed Research Solutions, India, is dedicated to developing industry-ready healthcare professionals through specialized skill development programs. CTRI focuses on bridging the gap between academic education and industry requirements by offering practical, application-based training delivered by experienced professionals from healthcare, hospitals, medical coding companies, health insurance organizations, and healthcare BPO sectors.

About the Program

The Executive Diploma in Medical Coding & CPC Certification Preparation is a comprehensive career-oriented program designed to prepare students and professionals for careers in Medical Coding, Risk Adjustment Coding, Healthcare Documentation, Revenue Cycle Management (RCM), Medical Auditing, and Health Information Management.

The program provides in-depth training on medical terminology, anatomy, physiology, ICD-10-CM, ICD-11, CPT®, HCPCS Level II, Evaluation & Management (E/M) coding, specialty coding, coding compliance, medical auditing, and healthcare reimbursement systems.

A special focus is given to CPC certification preparation through extensive question banks, coding exercises, coding scenarios, and full-length mock examinations.

Participants will also undergo a dedicated three-month internship involving coding projects, chart reviews, coding audits, and real-world coding exercises.

Why This Diploma?

Medical Coding remains one of the most sought-after healthcare careers globally, with increasing demand from:

- Hospitals
- Health Insurance Companies
- Revenue Cycle Management Companies
