

BUBU

“ My favourite time to play is at sunrise, but I also enjoy taking the whole night on my charge and playing long hours, from start to finish. ”

His great ability to engage with crowds both at massive festivals and intimate gatherings has earned him a headlining spot at some of the world's most extraordinary venues, events and festivals, including the Mayan Warrior, Acidcase, Burning Man Festival and Mexico City's M.N. Roy.

Always expect the unexpected. For Bubu, style is not a matter of genres, but of feelings and emotions. Dropping the right track at the right moment, using his own sensibility as a guide, is how he builds stories through his sets.

BIO

Mexican DJ and producer Diego Martínez de la Escalera has been part of the electronic music scene in Mexico for the past 20 years. Under the moniker Bubu, he is a resident DJ at M.N. Roy Club and Departamento Studio Bar in Mexico City, as well as the Mayan Warrior Crew and Maxa Art Car.

Under his other alias Beyou, he has released tracks on Kompakt, Correspondent, Hippie Dance and his own label, ILS Records. In the studio, he has collaborated with Blond:ish, Pachanga Boys, Thomass Jackson, Jay Haze, Íñigo Voltier, Capri and Andy Kenguan. His music also featured in Arroyuelo-Woolrich's multi-award-winning debut movie You Can't Always Get What You Want.

During the pandemic, Bubu, along with Thomass Jackson, Billy Mendrix and Andy Kenguan, have been working on a new project – WADLEY – an act that draws inspiration from and takes us back to some of the bands we grew up listening to: Joy Division, Primal Scream and The Cure.
