

Get your FREE

TOMATO SEEDS

here at the LIBRARY

March 1st — 30th

(one packet per patron, please)

WISCONSIN 55 TOMATO

Annual | Large Red, Semi-determinate, 75 days

About this variety:

The Wisconsin 55 tomato is a delicious tomato that was bred in 1947 at the University of Wisconsin, Madison by renowned plant pathologist John Charles Walker. This variety was bred for disease and crack resistance in our humid upper Midwest. The large, deep red fruits are great for canning or for fresh eating. It's remained in commercial production since its introduction.

