“MAKE a path, where no leaf
has been touched & the grass has not been cut!”

You, our children, you have asked, and wondered about the beginning of creation. It has been taught to you since birth in some form; however, you still struggle with what has been taught. We hear you, so now hear these words, take them in deeply, and quietly, so they vibrate deep into every part of you, for this is your beginning.

Do you not know already what has been created?

Of course you do! You can see it, you can even now google it, and instantly there is the image of what was created. Some of which still exists in places you can travel to and see, some still hidden from all, waiting to be found, and some yet to be created; for in our creation exists the power to continue to create, in you and through you, which is what was, and always will be.

In this, we will not re-construct the stories of the genealogy of our other children, sent since the beginning of time. We hear your thoughts! You have asked for a directness that had yet to be given in a form of physical existence here in your time, not from times past, or by ones who are no longer hear to speak directly to you.

We have watched as you tried desperately to make sense of our other teachings, from our other children, from those times. We have seen how your mind effortlessly moves further away from us, due to the long elaborate and evasive explanations; even though the intent was to bring you closer to us, inside, where we dwell as one.

It does not matter where or how any of our creations started, in space, or a foreign land, or not, because all of the land, all the creations, living things, on land, air, sea, and including all space in your Universe is Ours.

It does not matter what visions were shown to others about what was or was to come, for they are here now, as always has been, over and over since the beginning of the creation of life.

Now, just as it was in the beginning, they bring themselves to you who are listening, bringing all of you our original words, but in today's words of your language, and the message for life now in your Millenia, this New Mile.

The history of all that has been mentioned, one day, you may crave to know, or not. As you may have all you need right here in these words to start your journey. However, if you so choose, or have been chosen, you will not only know that you are meant to study further the genealogy of all our creations, but you will feel it, us, we, and them inside.

Right now you want answers, and you need a voice to help guide you, a real living voice in the now for you to hear. We have come now to give you exactly what you have been asking for, a real answer of how to be closer to us, to know us, and feel us.

We are aware of your wants, your needs, your ambitions, your hopes, dreams, as well as the difficulty YOU THINK you have when wondering how to achieve and receive them. Just like in the beginning, all of those answers dwell right here inside you, where we are.

The principals of the original teachings and Teachers that have come has never changed, and no matter how many times we have sent someone to tell you, many of you still have questions regardless of how many different ways we teach you.

You would rather spend your time, seeking only in your own ways, or demanding that your way is the only way, instead of listening to us, who lived then, who know all, and more importantly, who are living life now, right along side of you.

We knew this day would come, as it has come many times before. As our creations evolved, so to have our words and expressions. Our lessons seem to continually need to be re-expressed or newly expressed for each of your generations, because those who have spoken of us in the past, have done their best to interpret what we communicate to them, in those times. Yet, our original words, our message to each and every one of you, has never changed from then until now. We are presenting them to you here, for this Millenia. The New Mile of your time.

For many millions of years, not just several thousand, we have given the word. The word representing all connections and interpretations of our divine love for you. Our energy expressed through you with a purpose. The true meaning of life being lived.

This message has come from those who lived physically in times before you, as would be expected for you were not there, and now we present new words at this time for you to connect with.

We see how distant you are from those who were sent before you. Which has only made you move further away from us.

We also see how this has happened. Many have taken the word from those who had been sent and manipulated it to distract you from us. Knowing us directly, and connecting to “Us”, the source of all creations, scares those who hold power over you now, just as it did then.

The only possible way to correct that is to continue to communicate with you through those who are listening now. We have seen, just as you can see for yourself, that those who were so threatened, or still are, by our ability to directly communicate with you, took it upon themselves to dictate and form rules, laws for your societies to follow if you were to truly be close to us and understand our expressions, which is our energy in existence in your physical world.

They cloud your judgement and inner knowing in mystery, hoping that very few of you, if any, will truly know how to communicate with us, to hear and feel us, our words within for yourself, which will allow your light and love to shine, and your dreams to come true.

This has been so plainly spoken and taught by our other Children, yet continues to elude most of you. Our one desire for you is to truly live the loving purpose you were sent with, which is “our” purpose in the creation of you, your “soul” on this planet Earth.

You must understand that rules for oneness with us do not exist. You are already one from us and with us, as we are within you.

However, that should not be misunderstood for a lack of respecting laws; the rules you have written and agreed to as groups, or societies as you call them, for purposes of protecting yourselves from each other. If your lives were lived with the same love we have for you, just as it is here, there would be no need for those laws.

But, as you can plainly see in your World, that is not the case due to your free will. Your free will can also be better understood as “our” non-physical ability to reach out with a physical action to stop any of you from wrong doing. Which is why we write these words to you now, once more attempting to connect with all of you, as one, because you are one. One species, one specific being, unlike any of our other creations.

Our words, spoken to you in times past, by those who’s purpose was to guide you to a oneness with us, their purpose, or as you may understand it now, their natural born profession, have all to the best of their ability in physical form taught you about us, that even now, you still read, speak and seek them.

All of their loving expressions, and including this teaching is the great secret you have tried to understand. Our word expressed to you has never been a secret, they have just hidden the truth from you of how to know it for yourself, that is until now.

Here we present you what we want you to receive, not only in doses you are capable of understanding, comprehending, and yearning to hear, but at the speed in which we can reveal more of our love and our words, expressed properly to you by this Teacher who was chosen.

You must understand that a life's lessons, or purpose, cannot be taught or known in full at one time, because that life is still being lived. So, as we continue to teach, show and guide, you will be "led through the wilderness" as had been said in the past, once more. Know that this wilderness we speak of, is the planet you cohabitate. It is not some far off place that you must try so hard to find. It is right here for you, no different than all your brothers and sisters, now and from the beginning of time.

You see, your free will cannot be taken away from you, because physically we cannot stop your decisions, yet we are speaking to you and want you to know this seemingly impossible secret. So, now is the time in which you can decide to listen or turn away.

Here through this writing, we present you with a physical hand to hold, one of our children to answer your questions in modern time, with an answer that will make sense to you. Where now, because of the forums of communications that have evolved, can be shared instantly, and many of you will connect immediately, you will feel the “oneness” we speak of.

Do not give thought as to who is writing or speaking to you right now, for it is us within that are truly speaking, doing, guiding, leading, and giving, as much at one time as is capable of true understanding. All of the Love that is being brought to you here, is all you will need to focus on in order to really know who we are, and what we truly want for you. Learn how to accomplish this, by placing yourself in front of a mirror, and stare at “one” of our greatest living creations. In time, the one who speaks here of us, will manifest to you if it is so needed.

Is it impossible for you to believe that we are capable of speaking to another one of you in present time? You who we chose to represent our image! Have you not been told many times, that one of you, in different places, some at different times, while some in similar times, have walked this wilderness, speaking of us? If you are one who still looks to them for answers, then why can you not believe that we have sent others, with purpose to do the same?

By now you must realize that this is no great mystery, as many have presented this for all of you at our internal beckoning. A purpose given to them, for you. It was not just one time, in one place, or even using just a human being. The ability to express what and who this is, comes in forms of all living things, the beauty of life; and as all living things have their cycle, and their body eventually dies, your soul, spirit, "energy" returns to us, as we have never been separated in the first place. As your creators, you are drawn back to the whole, where we are, just as you were drawn to and wanted to experience life.

Yet, when you are there, you begin to search from where you just came. Why? Because you can not recall due to the distractions that called you there in the first place. So when you are there we must continue to present you the same word or words of life, over and over, in new and more evolved processes of expression, in order to remind you of your decision to bring your purpose to a physical life.

We are doing this constantly, with those who have come as Teachers, as recent as the last 100 years, even right up until now as you read. The difference is that in the here and now, your mind has been trained to believe that it is impossible that there is one, walking among you right now. That only one from long ago, or ones from different places and eras, who are NOT physically here now to speak their words, or explain what they have written, must have been the only holder of the great secret.

Why then do so many of you right now speak of us all across your Planet, using your forms of communication? They are there, it's true, go seek and you will find.

They may speak using different words, but there are many you have access to, unlike ages ago. Our words now, are for you, and will ignite in you the desire to truly know us, to communicate directly with us, so you can begin to truly live this life you desired. Bringing to this World, your divine purpose, a part from us, and held only within you.

We have been doing this over the ages, all of the ages, and even before the ages were accounted for. From us, there was the beginning, and through us there is no end. This will continue for infinity, or, until we see all of you, our greatest living creations of Earth, listening with the same ears, living in the harmony we hear that you want, providing for each other with the purest intentions of love, compassion, and empathy, while improving, respecting, and caring for the planet we allow you to use.

We know, you are asking, “why is it like this?” Or, “why does it seem so complicated.” I know, we are always searching for that answer. If you just learn to re-connect to us and communicate with us, the answer will be given to you privately in those moments of true clarity.

If the time comes that you all have the same regard for all of our creations, “life”, possibly at that time we may no longer need to internally push from within any of you; as all of you will have had to come to the realization of our presence, and will have complete understanding of, our word, love, and the meaning of life.

If those actions, (your free will), and the harmony of true love are withheld from any of you, or any of our living beings, then because there is no end to our living essence and being, this great word or words as you so seek, will continue to call from within others, attempting to open your eyes to what many call the great secret.

We have brought these words to you at the exact time and place needed for today. You must understand that our eternal presence was, is, and always will be, as we are from before what you call the beginning of all things. At different times through your recorded history, we have expressed to you in a language, and through, a person, YOU could connect to. What you don’t understand, is it was them who were still so connected to us, and their desire to express it to you!

Now more than ever, our original and only message of LOVE, must be expressed to you without you having to walk thousands of miles through a dessert, spend years studying ancient teachings, or over mountains to find the answer. That is why these words for today have been typed into a Computer, and not carved in tablets, and hidden in caves for thousands of years; yet you may read or listen to them from a tablet, or find them in a cloud.

We have not kept them in a sacred tomb, that you have just discovered; for those words did not live on in the closed door of a tomb. They lived on in others, because our word never stops living, so they cannot be where life no longer exists. They are not of a language that you do not know, and need to have deciphered, however, other places and nations may have them translated amongst their civilizations that exist now in this year of 2019, or these similar, if not exact same expressions of our thoughts may be coming from another one of you in those other civilizations; and only now as “one” do you collectively have the courage to also speak of them.

This message has NOT been influenced by a King, Queen, Ruler or Leader out of fear for their empire, or in collusion for a personal gain in wealth or power. We have instructed that this message, and all to come in "The New Mile" recorded as our living scrolls be given to you freely.

This knowledge, feeling, message, and teaching has been provided in confident silence to its earthly Writer. Yet, it has been many years that we have very loudly expressed our intentions, grooming and preparing for what was to come. We knew this era was coming, where an expression of pure divine love, empathy and understanding of us for the civilization you are currently living in would need to be expressed. An expression that would instantly be heard by all, to bring you together as one, to use your free will to make the changes necessary for quality of life for each other, just as we always wanted for you.

In time you will be capable of understanding how to ask of this knowledge, or anything else you want, directly to us, and us alone!

That time can start right now immediately for you, you only need to make the choice to want to connect, and the answer will return to you very clearly. You only need to put more effort into knowing us and feeling us within; a daily ritual of speaking with us and begin to truly listen.

“IN THE BEGINNING”, we created everything from a living part of us, a piece of our entirety. It is that same small piece of our entity which is the energy that created everything you see. We watched that manifest into other living beings, and things, life in our imagination being lived on Earth. While we allowed our living energy in creation to evolve, it became more advanced.

It has eventually over millions of years, become now, what you call your human body, as well as all living things, past, and present. Yes, this was all created from just a speck of one part of the living energy of we the Creators.

Are you beginning to understand how grand this is, and we are?

Do you realize inside how much we, you, us, as one, are capable of?

This divinity of purpose of life and love, dwells inside of you, all of you, coursing through you, wanting so badly to fulfill through you. Each of you have a variety of purposes for all stages of your human life.

Your desires are just that, desires. Your purpose, when truly presented from your inner knowing of us, and following the message that lives in your heart, will produce all of your desires. Those of you who may struggle to understand or believe, that is only because you choose not to put us first, daily, nightly and in everything you do. You must take time to reconnect to us, communicate with us daily, and listen carefully to the words we lovingly reply with; words that will come in ways you may never expect, however you will understand.

See, that original speck of energy from us, that we sent to become the beginning of physical life, was only a fraction of even that speck of the infinite energy that makes up our entire living entity. That speck, passed down, dwells in all of you, and all things, our DNA in you.

The great secret is that you are capable of hearing our message of love and purpose without seeking anywhere but within. If you just make the effort, the information we provide you is endless, just as we are. The only effort you need to make is to spend more time alone with us, to choose to not be distracted by your programming, and allow our time together to be the most important thing in your life.

If you begin to listen to our words of love in silence, see clearly with your eyes closed, and feel us when nothing is physically touching you; that is when you will realize (remember) who we are, how much we love you and have missed you.

You will hear us, because we are everywhere, just as we always were. What has now changed in your society is that you have more access to find us. There are some who can teach you how to feel or see us. Just as here in these words, seek them, you will find them, they can and will help you begin your journey; then you will surely come to understand that all of you were created from the same fractional speck of a drop of we the Creators of all.

Although each of you in living life form, humans, you, contain a trace of our living essence, you have all turned out different, as was the plan of creation in “our image”. Our image is that of our imagination. An imagination of such magnitude with no limits or boundaries, that only we the Creators of all things could create this specific image in our imagination.

If you can believe that you have an imagination, and from that many amazing things have been imagined into existence, then why do you struggle to believe that we are here, and imagined this amazing universe for you? Can you imagine that this is true? Yes, you can imagine it, even if you have doubt, you can still imagine it is true.

Remember, that fractional speck from us generated all the living energy of every cell of life that we imagined. Then those cells and their energy morphed to create different imprints, not one alike, not one the same, a YOU, the individual you or “it”, however it and you are all still “one” from us.

This first drop of your energy, or in other words, blood from us, allows all of you your own uniqueness, and divine purpose, multiple purposes, YOUR PURPOSE, in creating from your imagination for our World.

That is what you are searching for correct? Your purpose, that will fulfill your desires? The secret that seems hidden from most?

The skills and talents that are yours, yet come from us, will allow you to fulfill those desires when you learn to listen to us for the answers to your heart's questions.

Why? Because your true purpose is what we have imagined in our image, and it needs to be expressed physically to your brothers and sisters who you share space with, on what is truly, and will always be our Real Estate.

Through the ages, we have been aware of what has been good, or would be good, at the time for this planet. We are also aware, as we have watched the evolution of our energy and life in our creations grow, what could or could not, live in peace, love, and harmony together.

This is why over millions of years we have let our energy move about the Universe, Solar System, and the Planets, conforming to allow life to exist as you now experience it. There has been no mistake in the creation of our image; our image, is all life as it has been recorded, then and now.

Are you starting to understand the power of our being as a form of energy, our life body expressed? Let us provide you with another image for you to clearly comprehend. Just like a speck of dust inside a home, a similar speck of our life, our energy, came from our house, which is what you now call your Universe, and was used for its inception.

You have been told by your Scientists how grand your Universe is, and it is grand to you there. Quite an unbelievable creation in actuality, but, let us put it in perspective for you. Your Universe is to us, its Creators, one small bubble, floating in an open field of millions of bubbles that we effortlessly maneuver through. Does that help you understand perspective? Imagine that!

You see, “We” are the FEMININE, MASCULINE and ALL OTHER in between infinite possibilities of living energy expressed in all life; as you and all living things.

We are every, and any combination of those energies that only recently you have been strong enough to express. We exist above, under, in, and all around your UNIVERSE as one. We are the beginning with no end.

We are in all cells of every living thing as we have explained. We are the “thing” you have a hard time explaining. The eternal question of who is, or is there a God? We as “one” are God! A name you provided; a name we are honored to be called. We are light eternal. We are darkness. We are tree, flower and animal. We are Science. We are fire as it burns on top of water, we are things you can not explain at times. We are your greatest teachers. We are your loving PARENTS. We are what you all as “one” keep looking for, even though we have never been lost.

We have instructed this Teacher to use any definition or visualization possible to express our will for you to connect with us. To express to you, that in whatever way you see the purest form of LOVE, WE ARE THAT, & we are called many things, including the name you gave us "God".

If you must imagine us in a form image like you, the mortal man, then for now do so. But, in your seeking for us, that will not last long, and your eyes will truly begin to see us, as your ears begin to hear us.

At times, you believe we have formed as an image; however you must now be able to imagine our vastness as described, and realize it is you who give us a form, an image, because for most of you our image is unimaginable.

This whole is our entirety, we are warmth from the dimmest light. We are softness on calloused hands, and we are the occasional bitter taste of something you truly love.

For those of you who are our greatest skeptics, who fight tooth and nail against religion, yet you comprehend and relate to something you just read, you are correct!

We are not religion, a word you created to describe an organization. We understand that when we are called by our name given by you, "God", your human mind has such a hard time comprehending anything except seeing us in a human or silhouette of light form, high in the sky, or the "heavens" as they have been called; no different than if you were to say the name of someone you know aloud, their image, forms in your mind. You do not see their soul, their energy, their real life.

You are great Men and Women of Science, we know this because we too are the greatness of your Science, as we are you and have pushed your thoughts into realization. You consistently want to attempt to put a face and body and substance to us, allowing you the only way possible to continue to argue about who we are, and what we are. Yet you yourself cannot explain what we are. However, you know we exist because your science speaks of the great conditions we provided for the perfect conditions for sustained life.

To put your petty quarrels with religion away, it is simple to express that we agree. We are not your human body in the sky, however, we dwell in all bodies. If our other children so wish to connect with us visually, why argue or debate how we show our love to you. If you see our love in physical form, or in science, this is good, provide that same love to others. Are you all not searching for similar things? Purpose? Prosperity? Yes you are! We know this because it is what we created for your experience.

Also, there is no reason anyone should argue with you about your Science, for we are there also. Do not attempt to argue to cause disbelief in what we have just taught you. We have shown you here how we speak to those who listen, how Scientifically we are one creation from the beginning, by your own admission of the living energy in all things. We know you are still not able to call us by the name God, that is ok, you do not have to.

If you prefer to call us science, or the big bang, or even Dan & Judy, we shall answer your questions as well. We are all those names, including the name God and we are with all of you.

Do you see how much we love what we have created? We, your beginning, God, want you to have everything, and only ask in return that we are what you turn to for everything. That our Love seeps from every single part of your living being for all of the time in the life you now live.

That love, kindness, and generosity expressed from you, is so bright, and warm that it is impossible for your brothers and sisters not to notice it.

They will ask you directly what it is that has changed you, and how can they experience it also. It is then that you will become the Teacher we need. We do not hold a staff and rod in each hand. We do not shoot bolts of lightning and trouble to destroy some, while using the other arm to provide a warm breeze and beautiful scents of exotic flowers and riches to others.

You do all that to yourselves!

The heavens or hell as have been described are right here in your view. Each day you have the free will and choice to live with us, as heaven (love-prosperity) is all around you, or you choose to live in what you call hell, a toxic state of being you create for yourself to live in from a lack of knowing us.

You have this great choice, that is free will explained, and yes, those choices do, can, and will affect the mortal lives of others, so choose wisely and lovingly, you have this great ability, and we wait patiently on your call to us for guidance.

As we have explained to you here, we do not have a hand and arm to stick out from beyond the Universe and stop one of you from hurting each other, or destroying this beautiful place we have created. We have entrusted you to do that for each other, as a family united with us, yet some of you don't!

It is your physical hand and arm that can act on our behalf in the physical world. Use it to reach out and pick someone up, deliver something to someone in need, to take something from your pocket and hand it to someone else,- to embrace each other, to walk hand in hand united.

Is this request so hard for you to understand? You prefer to ask, "where is God in this or that"? We are right there, sometimes crying along-side of you, at other times beckoning for you to listen, while at the same time in different places we could be smiling and laughing.

We try with every effort to get through to you our children. Especially times of difficulty or sadness. Some ears have trouble hearing us, and some have decided to stop listening. That is precisely when we need you the most.

It is through you and your realization of our existence, our energy and life that we we can provide omnipresent love.

We called upon you through many ways, in many writings, and many people, so we inside of you, God, could do our divine work. Yet more and more of you are blind to anything which does not currently affect you, not realizing that everything which takes you further from us, can affect everyone, no different than choosing to be closer to us can have a much more loving and greater affect on all of you.

The eternal is a space known only to us and those who's living energy in death has been re-united with us, the rightful parents of your soul spirit.

You will all at the end of your mortal life understand this. Here your physical body means nothing, it is left behind there.

When you return here, there are lessons we will reveal to you from your mortal life on Earth, so your spirit life, can put forth the divine love, light, guidance and effort we intended all of you to share while you were there on Earth.

For you who have already connected to this our Genesis words for the Millenia, we are pleased, as we can feel your joy from within. You have already begun your new journey. You will be led to many different teachers and amazing people. You will easily find your fluidity, you will take advice from many of those you are led to. You will create and be true to yourself, your purpose, and all living things you share the air with, our definition of Love.

You will also become our teachers and new leaders. Your teachings may be in different businesses or areas of expertise. As new leaders you will change the rules to benefit all of you, not just some of you. You will know from within that you are living your lifes purpose.

Every creation (writing-teaching) from our children past, and present was always meant for all.

Why would we allow creation and life in our image only to deny any of you what we imagined? We do not, you deny each other with your free will. There has never been an intention from the beginning for any division amongst our children, your societies did that to you. Now is the time that you have the power to change it, as "One"!

Our love, and the gifts from that love were given to you freely from us, for all of you, and for the use of, yet you divide things up as if we are not able to provide enough for everyone. You all already know this is not true. WE have ample amounts to provide you all, an endless, infinite supply. Can you not see that in our other forms of life? Look around, you will see!

So why not do right by each other and all living things? You are capable, you do right by your Mothers, or Fathers, a loved one, respected one, an animal, or your child. All of you have someone, some living thing, in your life you want to do right by, even if you are not doing it right now. The want for you to do so, that is “us” God within trying to communicate to you.

Why do you still have doubt or clouded vision, that you are all brothers & sisters? It has been said and written many different times, in many different teachings, from many different parts of the World. How much easier, nicer, kinder, and even more pleasing to your own soul, mind, and body is it to live in love with each other and us, your being Creators, once you have acknowledged it is that part of us that has created all things.

By sharing, caring, giving and loving all you meet, you are promoting the prosperity we want for all of you. In essence, that is the same feeling you have like when you were picked first on the team for a game of kickball. Children, do you not see or understand how that will bring more of everything to all of you?

This is in history the time where you, YOU, who see the unhappiness with where life is for many in your Country, as well as many other places on Earth, will now begin to listen to our words much more intently. You will go to where you are led by our love, and you will create the change needed.

In doing so you will find that these words and all the answers are right inside every part of you, right where they always have been, and together as "One" you can do something about it. The only way for our imagination to create a better state of being, is through you.

There is nothing wrong with this World, this World (the physical planet), the universe we created is a beautiful place, however there are things that cause unattractiveness to blur your vision.

We are aware of this; we see it through the eyes of those who work on our behalf to change it.

As a majority, and together, you will see the beauty in the World, you will taste of all it has to offer, just as was intended, if you so use your free will to choose each other, choose God, or Dan & Judy!

For you, still so firm in your religion, or religious beliefs, this is also good. We are also pleased, for religions of the world are not all evil. The letters that make up the word Religion, cannot be good or evil, it is a word you created, like a name, and their original creation was of our words.

Those words at those times were expressed by those like yourself who connect to what we have said here, and they had no other intention than to tell you about our love, our existence, "the secret." Many of them had no idea that a religion would be created in their name.

These religions can still be very useful, as they can draw many of our children near to us; however can also drive many of you away from us.

This is why we have instructed these writings be made for those of you who are wandering, searching for something, someone, who will provide you clear straight answers.

It is in many of these religions where the rules we spoke of have been written, with instructions on what you will need to do to receive our love, our mercy or grace.

You have had our love and power from the conception of your being, there are no rules to receive our love. Promote our love and teaching to your generation. In us, you will find the real you, your strength, answers, love, prosperity, and your purpose, true happiness in this life.

Religions have become to you, no different than your understanding of a business, fueled by power, money & greed. In the beginning that was not the intention of our chosen children who came to gather you, and it does not have to stay like that. Very easily, you who listen, YOU will be their new leaders and teachers, YOU can and will change how they operate. Not only in the business of Religion, but in business and life itself. This is a continued example of our evolution, and our state of, letting our beings, do the work that is necessary, once guided by us within.

Eventually, through these words you will understand that we, God, is, are, only Love. The word that was created by your society to express the feeling in your body of warmth, laughter, being supported, cared for, stillness, peace, all good things, just like someone you love rooting for you at your ball game or competition.

We have expressed this many times throughout the ages. In many parts of this World. We utilized individuals, our other children, or animals or living things for you to visually see, hear, or sit in silence with, so you could come to the understanding of us, your true divine biological Parents.

You have been told that the children in the times past have all pleased us, there have been many as we have said. If there is one who draws you in near, this is good, for they have fulfilled their life's purpose. Through them, with patience and the actual work of seeking, you will then find us, God within you, which will make your travel here in this life so much more than what you right now can imagine it could ever be.

If you are struggling to comprehend how this can be. The time to find out, is right now, in silence go seek, without words ask, and with your eyes closed see, and then FEEL it happening.

That is the great secret.

We will continue to speak our word to you and push from within, just as it was...

"In The Beginning."
