

5 Day Devotional

Day 1: Start With What You Have

Devotional

It is easy to look at your faith and feel like it is not enough. Maybe you have prayed and not seen results. Maybe you have believed and still feel stuck. If that is where you are today, you are in good company. Even the disciples of Jesus struggled with this.

But here is the encouragement: Jesus never asked for perfect faith. He asked for real faith. Even faith as small as a mustard seed, the tiniest seed in the culture of His day, was enough to move mountains. That is not a high bar. That is an open door.

God is not waiting for you to have it all figured out before He steps in. He is simply asking you to bring what you have, however small it feels, and trust Him with it. The size of your faith is not the issue. The direction of your faith is.

You do not need more faith before you can start. You just need to start.

Bible Verse

"He said to them, 'Because of your little faith. For truly, I say to you, if you have faith like a grain of mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, Move from here to there, and it will move, and nothing will be impossible for you.'" - Matthew 17:20

Reflection Question

What is one area of your life where you have been waiting until your faith feels "big enough" before trusting God with it?

Quote

"He's not asking for what you don't have. He's simply asking for you to give him the faith that you have."

Prayer

Lord, I bring You the faith I have today, even if it feels small. Help me to trust that You are more than enough to meet me right where I am. Amen.
