August 2022

General Manager's Comments

Summer in Newport doesn't get any better than August, when the heat and humidity rise, the cool crowds of June and July move on, and the warm refracted light is, according to some writers, the best this side of Rome. I can attest to each as a long-time resident of Newport Beach and Park Newport, veteran of many a beach barbeque and Bayside brunch, but also as an accidental observer of local mixers, charity happenings, and bar chatter, if I may qualify. Along the way, the lore of an iconic apartment community holds that the biggest Hollywood stars of an era spent time around our Main Pool, gave interviews to the local and international press, and were photographed here for agencies, newspapers, and magazines for decades. They made headlines, here, on our tennis courts and became icons of sport and celebrity, infamous for national matchups which are still fondly recalled by some who still live here, as well as the world. In many cases, they simply retreated to Park Newport when a hectic schedule called for privacy, an early morning swim, and a clear view of the Bay, Harbor, and blue Pacific. There were also those who came home to Park Newport for its legendary recreation program, activities schedule, sunset traditions at the Clubhouse, and genuine hospitality. These residents were your neighbors and friends. You knew them: A cowboy, an ingenue, a Broadway star, a tennis player, a concert pianist, a sports legend, a TV legend, a real estate icon, and—most importantly—you, to name just a few Park Newport alums titled as such. Park Newport thanks you for choosing this storied location as your home and asks only that you enjoy yourself to the fullest.
