

LEADERSHIP LEARNING CIRCLES

Presented by Laura King

"My coaching supports leaders ready to invest in themselves, their teams, and their organizations."

Imagine an organization where people work enthusiastically while ideas and opinions are shared. Feedback is sought. People listen and feel connected. Adaptable leaders relate to all they encounter.

- Are you cultivating a culture of trust?
- How would you describe your current culture?
- Is it aligned where you want it to be?

Leadership Learning Circles help leaders and teams seeking alignment or needing a reset. Discover ways to support your teams and leaders to be more responsive, authentic, and vulnerable. Together we will explore what matters most and elevate leadership skills in a trusting environment.
