

Beneath the Skin Lash Studio Cleansing Instructions:

$15 Eyelash Sample Cleanser Kit

Or $25 Borboleta Full Size Gel Cleanser

(kit includes sample size Borboleta Lash Bath cleanser, brush and water dispenser bottle to rinse)

The sample size will last about 2-3 weeks. After, the purchase of another sample size cleanser ($10), or a full-size cleanser ($25), will be needed.

Additional items for purchase are portable fans for drying and Borboleta fluffy cleansing brushes. These tools will greatly help your lash retention.

REMEMBER TO CLEANSE DAILY to improve your retention and avoid the risk of inflammation or clogging up of the tiny oil glands or lash follicles that we have. Make cleansing a part of your morning or night routine to keep your natural lashes healthy and strong.

Consult with Cassie for further instructions or demonstrations:

Fill water dispenser bottle with cool, distilled water to use to rinse your lashes with after applying the gel.

Dispense a dime-sized amount of lash cleanser (shown above) into a small mixing cup. Use the water dispenser to pump about 5 small pumps of water, use the cleansing brush to mix in circles quickly to create a more “whipped” or thicker consistency (shown above what it should look like, notice the important difference in consistency).

Keeping one eye closed and one open, apply to the closed eye and then repeat to the other eye after. Using the cleanser, apply it to the lashes and work carefully at the lash line back and forth slowly notching between each lash gently, and then working down the extensions. Wet the brush under the sink (cool water) and get off excess cleanser.

Use the water dispenser bottle to be sure to remove all traces of cleanser. Pump it over the lashes carefully letting it drip off your chin to the sink. Do not use warm water or this can cause the extensions to come off.

Tear up a lint-free paper towel in half twice to make a small piece to roll up, and carefully place and press down over the lashes, as directed by Cassie. Be sure not to crunch or use too much force. Do not brush your extensions when they are wet. Dry well with a small portable fan before carefully brushing and fluffing out the lashes. Wet lashes will clump, dry together and can affect retention when soaked.

*Cleanse immediately after crying, working out, excessively sweating, laying in the sun, or if the lashes are in contact with salt or chlorinated water*
