

We're Hiring: UX Researcher @ Budhhi

Location: Remote

Type: Part-time / Flexible contractor

Compensation: Unpaid initially until sufficient fund is raised

Start Date: As soon as your creative energy hits our inbox

Application Deadline: May 10, 2025 (rolling review)

Who we are:

At Budhhi, our people and culture come first. We imagine, build and launch bold solutions that enrich individual lives and strengthen communities. We constantly find new ways to bring our designers, engineers and strategists together—sharing ideas, sharpening skills, and fueling the next generation of intelligent digital products.

In our third year, Budhhi is a lean, passionate startup working across healthcare, AI/ML, Web3, R&D and community programs like AI hackathons and conferences. As part of our scrappy crew, you'll help shape our DNA; share in the upside when we close our funding round.

Role Overview

You'll be the architect of Budhhi's digital interfaces—turning user needs into seamless, attractive screens and interactive prototypes. As Part of the Creative Design Team, working closely with Product, Marketing, and Engineering teams, you'll ensure our apps and web experiences feel intuitive, polished and on-brand.

What You'll Do

- Lead UX research for Budhhi's flagship platform
- Plan and execute user interviews, prototype tests, journey mapping, and more
- Create personas and empathy maps based on real user voices
- Collaborate with product designers, AI engineers, and dreamers to humanize our interfaces
- Dig into raw user needs—especially from startup founders, researchers, mentors, and investors
- Turn insights into actionable UX improvements that feel like magic
- Champion accessibility, inclusion, and delightful experiences across everything we build

You Bring

- UX Research experience (agency, startup, or freelance — all cool)
- Fluency in qualitative and quantitative methods

- Experience researching B2B, platforms, or community-driven products
- Comfort navigating ambiguity (we're inventing stuff no one's built before)
- Bonus: familiarity with Figma, or nerdy excitement about AI tools

What It's Like to Work with us

- We believe good design feels like truth wearing a cape
- You'll work with great human beings, curious minds, researchers, technology enthusiasts, ML/AI builders, dreamers, and product tinkerers
- Fully remote team (we like pajamas and productivity)
- Flexible hours (we trust grown-ups)
- A chance to help build the foundation of something world-class
- Your work will greatly impact individuals and the community
- Your work will be recognized by the Government, thousands of Industry experts across the global ecosystem

You Might Be The One If You:

- Are obsessed with intuitive, delightful digital experiences
- Love working in zero-to-one spaces, especially where tech meets community
- Believe good design is invisible... until it's inspiring
- Want your work to shape how people around the world experience innovation
- Self-starter who finishes what they start
- Curious, hungry to learn new tools/technologies
- Collaborative mindset—able to work across multiple teams
- Want to design the future of how people collaborate with AI
- Believe interfaces should make people feel smart, seen, and safe
- Are ready to break things, fix things, and make them beautiful along the way

What You'll Gain

- Equity Upside: Early stake in Budhhi, to be formalized post-funding.
- Cross-Functional Impact: Shape brand identity, marketing, sales, and product experiences.
- Startup Experience: Hands-on role in a high-growth environment; rapid skill development.

- Future Opportunity: As we raise capital, you'll have first dibs on expanded roles and paid engagement.

Show Us Your Magic

Please submit via email to Info@budhhi.com with:

1. Your portfolio
2. Your resume (PDF, Notion, or even a cool Behance bio)
3. A one-liner about your design philosophy or the wildest idea you've ever prototyped
4. A brief note (200–300 words) on why you're excited to join a pre-funding startup and what you'd bring to Budhhi's creative vision.

Application Deadline

Rolling, but please apply by May 10, 2025. We hope to onboard ASAP.
