

Lost Picasso Masterpiece ‘Mujer Desnuda’ is scheduled for USA Tour 2022

Connoisseurs of Picasso artwork, Picasso Today, brings an extraordinary art piece for art lovers once owned by the late kingpin Pablo Escobar.

Los Angeles, California- MUJER DESNUDA.

Picasso Today is a portal connecting art lovers and collectors to some of Picasso's extraordinary paintings. They make one masterpiece available for exhibition and ownership at a time. They are bringing Mujer Desnuda Posando, a 1969 Picasso painting, previously owned by the late kingpin Pablo Escobar who was a devoted Picasso collector, to the U.S. The Picasso painting will be on an exhibition tour in the United States this year.

Mujer Desnuda Posando is a masterpiece that connects the two Pablos, opposite poles, through the mutual love for art, and the destiny of fame and money. The two Pablos were both savvy businessmen. Picasso invested in creating the masterpieces, and Escobar invested in art. The painting will soon be up for auction. It will be interesting to see who manages to take it home, the world of the two Pablos.

Pablo Ruiz Picasso (1881-1973) one of the most famous artists in history was a Spanish painter, sculptor and poet. He is considered a co-founder of cubism, a co-inventor of collage, the inventor of constructed sculpture, and the world's most prolific painter. In a career spanning 78 years, he amassed 300 sculptures, 13,500 paintings, 34,000 illustrations and 100,000 prints and engravings.
