Hello Summer! It's Ice Cream Time! Strawberry Ice Cream

Directions

In a large bowl, mix strawberries, honey, sugar, and lemon juice. Allow to sit 15-20 minutes, or until the strawberries have released their juices.

Mash the mixture with a potato masher, fork, or pastry cutter until there are no longer any large strawberry pieces (if you prefer a smooth ice cream, use a blender or food processor instead*).

To the strawberries, mix heavy cream, half and half, and vanilla extract. Stir just until combined.

Pour the mixture into your ice cream maker, and follow your manufacturer's instructions (mine took about 15-20 minutes to churn). You can eat the ice cream soft-serve, or freeze it in an airtight container for 3-4 hours to thicken it up slightly. For best results, allow the ice cream to sit 5-10 minutes to soften before serving.

Enjoy!

Ingredients

- 1 1/2 cups strawberries, hulled and diced
- 2 Tbsp honey
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1 tsp lemon juice
- 1 cup heavy whipping cream
- 1/2 cup half and half
- 1 tsp vanilla extract

Improving Your AC System's Efficiency

In a perfect world, you would always have the most efficient cooling system on the market. Unfortunately, that would require getting a new system every couple of years. You can't always have the newest, shiniest system, but that doesn't mean yours can't operate at max efficiency. There are a few simple things you can do to help your system running at its best.

Cleaning—Aside from maintenance, cleaning may be the most important way to keep your system clear of blockages. Externally, make sure your registers are clear of furniture and wall hangings so the maximum amount of air can get through. You will also want to ensure there is no debris on your outdoor condenser unit.

Usage—The way your home is set up can also affect efficiency. First and foremost, keep heat producing appliances like lamps away from your thermostat. You may also want to avoid using the dryer, oven, or other hot appliances during peak temperature hours. This will help your home maintained the proper temperature overall. Other tip for increasing efficiency is to use natural light to your advantage. Allow open curtains to heat your home or close them to keep heat out. And don't be afraid to turn your unit off and enjoy mild temperatures as they come.

Maintenance— You already enjoy the benefits of our maintenance program. It's an easy way to ensure your system is kept up and running without having to remember when you last had someone check it out. You also receive discounts on any services needed. A monthly maintenance task you can easily take on yourself is changing your air filter.

Increasing your air conditioner's efficiency can give you significant savings on your energy costs. Implementing the tips above is a great start to becoming more efficient. If you still aren't happy with your efficiency rating, contact us to learn what a new system has to offer and ask about any instant rebates that may be available! Call us 941-206-6131. Has this happened to you?

We do not use Sub-Contractors

A competitor is telling our customers we do

We received several calls from customers regarding sub-contracting. A competitor told some of our customers that Four Seasons Air was contracting out their maintenance work. Four Seasons does not sub-contract their work. We had one of our customers turn in a copy of a maintenance agreement they thought was one of ours. This competitor got ahold of one of our maintenance contracts, covered our logo and used it as their own! Unbeknownst to the competitor, they were trying to sell a maintenance contract to one of our customers. Thankfully our customer alerted us to the situation right away. Four Seasons is asking that if you have had this happen to you, please call our office at 941-206-6131 or email us at info@4SeasonsAC.com right away!.

Hot House? Need Help?

Call our Service Department! But first, here are a couple "quick fixes" that may get your system running and save you a service call!

- Checked the batteries in your thermostat? If your thermostat's batteries are low, it can cause your system to not function properly.
- Changed your filters lately?
- Checked your breakers and disconnect?
- Do you have an FP&L on call box?
- Is your de-humidistat turned to the "ON" POSITION?
- Was there a lightning strike and your outside unit is making a screeching noise? Turn it off for 5 minutes and then back on, sudden stop/start can make the compressor run backwards!

If you have checked all of the above and your system is still not functioning properly, call 941-627-2132 for 24/7 service!
REMEMBER—if you see ice on the copper pipes or coils—turn off the system to start defrosting it before we get there, or we may not be able to work on it right away!

What your neighbors are saying

"Excellent experience. We just had them replace our original unit (15 years old) with a new system for our condo. Prompt, professional, work done as promised. Would recommend."

Is your dryer screen clogged?

Did you know that chemicals on dryer sheets can clog your dryer screen filter? A clogged filter can lead to your dryer running "hot" which can cause damage, or worse, a fire.

Remember to scrub your dryer screen filter at least once a month in warm soapy water. The waxy coating on the sheet creates a build up that can clog your screen filter over time.

Get in the habit of cleaning the lint off of your dryer screen after every load. If you notice your dryer running hot or your clothes taking an excessive length of time to dry, it may be time for a dryer vent cleaning. Call us and schedule your dryer vent cleaning at 50% off regular price.

The waxy coating on dryer sheets can cause a buildup on your screen filter.

Programmable Thermostats—Save You Money

The thermostat: It's often one of the last things you think about when it comes to your home comfort system. And we can't blame you—we preach about changing your air filters, performing routine maintenance on your air conditioner and offer tips to keep your drain line flowing freely. But that little box on your wall...that little unassuming box...is actually like the brains of your home, and it deserves to be as high tech as everything else in your home.

Money Savings: Programmable thermostats can save you up to 33 percent on your annual heating and cooling energy costs, which can save you money. When used with a new system, Energy Star-certified programmable thermostats, according to one study, saved a homeowner approximately 6.8 percent throughout the year on their energy bill.

Just because you've had a programmable thermostat installed in your home doesn't mean it will automatically save you money. Just like your traditional thermostat, it all depends on how you set the controls and how you handle it. Yes...you.

You have to program it as directed to get the maximum savings out of the investment.

Programmable thermostats can store multiple daily settings that you can manually override without affecting the rest of the daily or weekly program. You can schedule your thermostat to kick on an hour before you wake or come home, this way your home is more comfortable.

While we say the programmable thermostat is the brains of your home, don't forget you're still the mastermind behind the effectiveness.
