

Natalia Sveripska · Jul 21, 2022

Topics

Suspected Gynecological Infection

Your results may indicate a gynecological infection. These infections can affect all parts of the female reproductive system and cause symptoms such as painful urination, vaginal itching, and an odorous vaginal discharge. These infections are generally easily treated. Talk to your practitioner about your results and if any medications are necessary.

RELATED RESULTS

Vaginitis (Trichomonas Vaginalis)

Positive

Highlights

No STIs Detected

Your results show that you did not test positive for any of the sexually transmitted infections that the lab examined. Note that if you have any new or unresolved sexual health symptoms, it is important to circle back with your practitioner as untreated infections can cause health problems.

RELATED RESULTS

Chlamydia

Not Detected

Gonorrhea

Not Detected

MESSAGE FROM YOUR DOCTOR

Dr. Massimi

Pathology

Hi Natalia, I'd like you to schedule a telemed visit to discuss results, especially around the positive vaginitis result. We will also talk about treatment options and repeat testing. Talk soon.

Sexual Health

Chlamydia	Not Detected
-----------	--------------

Gonorrhea	Not Detected
-----------	--------------

Vaginitis (Trichomonas Vaginalis)	Positive
-----------------------------------	----------

Mycoplasma Genitalium	Negative
-----------------------	----------