By the time you get this edition of the Fluff, we will be so close to Convention! The Club is gearing up for all of the Convention events. You've been seeing posts about the GFA; breeders are responding with generosity in their donations to this event. The host club has put out their first schedule, and we are working our club events around the ARBA schedule. Please be watching the membership page and the Website, www.jerseywooly.org, for more information and schedules for club events at convention. As always, we will need lots of volunteers! We welcome your help with the booth, with the show, and most importantly with running rabbits to the table and back to coops during the show. If everyone who shows, and who is not working at the tables, could run as many rabbits as they brought, and then a few more than that, we can keep the show running smoothly. We very much appreciate any and all help you can give.

We are in the midst of elections for board positions, and a special vote for a potential change in our district structure. You will note that all positions that were unopposed (no other candidate running) are following the CBL directive to declare those positions elected. District 4 has three candidates, while District 2 has no candidate who stepped forward. In the case of D4, the election will be decided by D4 voters. In the case of D2, a candidate will be appointed by the President and confirmed by the board after the completion of elections. Board elections happen every year for one half of the board positions. Your club is in the hands of your fellow members who run for office, and in the hands of each of you who exercise your vote. I encourage you to get involved in your club by volunteering, by running for office, and by voting. The people who choose to invest their time in the club deserve your support and thanks for their hard work. And we'd love to see more of you join us!

Doug Brown, who has served as the club's secretary for many years, and lately as our Vice President, has resigned from the board. Doug has many health issues within his family that require his focus and care. I thank Doug for all of his years of service to the club. Doug has had a steadfast presence on our board, carefully considering questions under consideration in terms of what would most benefit the membership. The membership was always his first consideration. Doug, you are so appreciated!

Hello everyone!

I hope this finds you well. It occurred to me that my term as your secretary is ending. Boy, did the time fly by! So, I want to take a minute and thank you all for your patience and kindness throughout this time. I have enjoyed talking with all of you and getting to know what drives you in this hobby of ours. From the grandma who became involved to spend quality time with her granddaughter, to the mom I talked with in South Carolina whose son had one singleton baby born and had to learn to feed the kit because his doe wasn't producing milk, to the new breeder in Arizona who just loves her buns, thank YOU. I know I am forgetting to mention many more, but believe me when I say, even though we may not ever meet face to face, I can honestly say I am grateful to have met you and to have spoken with you, whether it was, through private messages, phone calls, or even through email. Thank you!

Hello District 1 Members!

Can you believe National Convention is just around the corner? Time sure does fly! Every year I am so excited to see the results from the big show and appreciate the amazing opportunity to see members of our rabbit family from all over the country. Even if you are not able to attend, social media has made it possible to connect with others and allow us to almost feel like we are there as well. For those making the trip, I would definitely encourage you to stop by the Jersey Woolly booth to say hello and support our club. There are so many wonderful people involved and beautiful rabbits to see.

We still have multiple shows coming up in our district, and I look forward to seeing our members at local shows as well. I wish you all the best of luck on the show table and in your breeding goals. If you utilize social media, please keep an eye out for our District 1 page on Facebook as there are updates posted for local shows as well as members sharing which shows they will be attending, updates regarding club activities and more! It is a great way to form connections and help plan for your next show.

A big shout out to one of our members, Jenny Lautzenhiser, who has been graciously sanctioning so many shows in District 1! All of your time and dedication has been greatly appreciated by our members.

District 1 winners:

Briley Courtright took home two BOB and one BOSB wins with her broken senior doe, Boozy Bunnies Martini at the Wanderlust Rabbit and Cavy show in Dufur, OR. Congratulations Briley!

Hello all!

I hope the summer temperatures have not been too difficult for you and your Woolies. I am very blessed to live where I do. Our weather is almost always very moderate and with very little variation. That doesn't stop the molting though! My rabbitry is a mess right now with hair everywhere from both my breeds.

It has been very quiet out here where shows are concerned. We finished up the Sweeps year at the CCRCC triple show in Santa Maria, CA on June 1st. This show was smaller which allowed for plenty of time to visit with friends. That extra time gave us the chance to begin planning our trip to Louisville for Convention.

Have you begun to plan your trip? Do you have some hopefuls that you're keeping your eye on? Once again, there will be four of us driving out together. At this time, it looks like we will be towing a cargo trailer equipped with a ventilation/cooling system for the rabbits. This is what we did last year and it worked out well. We have an Airbnb that six of us are sharing. Lodging is very economical by doing it this way.

I've begun my rabbit prep by systematically rotating through the Woolies and grooming some almost daily. I'm also wiping down some cages daily for those who are on the messy side. Since they are all molting, this is helping to keep their cages cleaner. All that wool is just floating around my yard now ha-ha. By doing this, it also gives me a chance to frequently assess juniors and begin to make decisions as to who might be on my sales list. By the way, if you are looking for a pointed buck, come talk to me at Convention, my cup runneth over!!!

Since this is my last report before Convention, I wish everyone safe travels and I look forward to seeing you soon. If you are unable to attend, then I will see you next year. Take care!

You're so snuggly

I hope everyone has had a wonderful summer so far! With how hot it's been getting, I thought I'd share some tips on how to keep your rabbits cool!

Airflow is super important, especially if you live in a perpetually humid swamp like I do! I always have at least one fan running in my rabbitry. I think of it as my first line of "defense." Having airflow also protects coats and subsequently color from heat and humidity burn. Some other benefits of fans is that they help deter flies and can assist in the prevention of respiratory illnesses caused by stale air.

Frozen water bottles and ceramic tiles are other great ways to cool rabbits off! They're easily obtainable, incredibly cost effective, can be acquired and stored in bulk, and are relatively effective! In a pinch, I'll throw ice cubes in with them. They give the rabbits a cold "treat" that also acts as enrichment. I have several rabbits who love playing with and chewing on them! They also last longer than one would think!

Lastly, I also recommend dunking rabbits. So far, it's been the most reliable method of cooling them down and I have managed to save rabbits undergoing heat stress using this method! Dunking provides instant relief and the effects last for hours! However, be aware that getting the coat wet could damage it. To prevent and manage this, I blow out any dunked woolies in the evening when it's cooled down. I have yet to see any truly damaged coats from doing this. Regardless, I personally would rather have a temporarily damaged coat than lose a rabbit. The benefits absolutely outweigh the costs! I hope these tips are helpful!

To cap off, as always, if anyone has any show wins they would like featured in The Fluff, please feel free to message me on Facebook with pictures and information or send me an email at izzybuk18@gmail.com.

Cheers!

Hello District 5:

I hope the summer months have been good ones! A lot of our youth have been out hitting the fairs this year. Colson Enfield has attended several county fairs and won The Heart of The Ozarks Fair Show. Jordan Tucker and Eleanor Lefevre attended the Missouri State Fair and did very well. Jordan Tucker had two BOB and Eleanor Lefevre had a BOB and 4th place in showmanship. Kainen Reker did well showing in open at a show in Fayetteville, Tennessee taking 3 BOB & 3 BOS.

Melissa Tillery and The Sunflower Jersey Wooly Club are working hard to bring Nationals to District 5! That is so exciting! Please reach out to Melissa and see what you can do to help her and the club with Nationals.

I hope to see all of you at Convention this year!

Hello everyone,

I would like thank all who were part of allowing me to be the NJWRC's Treasurer. I look forward to working with everyone on the NJWRC board and the members as well.

A small bit about who I am. I started off as a huge Jersey Woolly supporter for my daughter several years ago. After successfully raising a couple of breeds, I decided that I wanted to have Jersey Woolies back in our barn. With the Jersey Woolly personalities and the people that make up the breeders, who I have met at shows, including Nationals, I knew I made a great choice to get back into Jersey Woolies.

I have been an Accountant for many years (no numbers needed...). I currently work for a non-profit organization, where I report year-round financial information to a board of directors, and I run the financial side of a County Fair.

My first step as your Treasurer is to organize all the numbers and provide them at the National Convention in Louisville, KY.

Speaking of National Convention 2024, I hope we have picked out our best Jersey Woolies for show and I wish everyone lots of luck and fun.

Hello everyone. I hope you have all had a wonderful summer. The up and down weather has been crazy all over.

Has everyone been picking out your convention hopefuls? If this is your first time going, please don't hesitate to ask other members about what you need to bring. Remember, we are there to have fun and make lots of new friends. And eat a lot.

The woolies have torn up the tables the last couple months of the show season. Daniel Kuyoth received 4 RIS and 6 BIS in shows in PA, MA, RI, and NJ, with Two Twins TT333. This is an AOV senior buck. Great job and congratulations Daniel.

Steven and I had 2 BIS and one RIS with W244, our broken senior doe, a.k.a. Gem.

I can't wait to see everyone in Kentucky

As I am writing this I realize this is my last Fluff article as your District 8 Director. I have enjoyed my time on the board. Your new District representative will take office after the Membership Meeting at convention. Your new District 8 representative will be Laurie Wood. If you catch her at the booth at convention, give her a warm welcome.

I am extremely proud of the work your board has accomplished over the years. The following is a list of some of the things, but not all of the things, that were accomplished by the board while I was a member. This board was great at working together for the better of the breed and membership. I would also like to thank all of the current board for making my time so enjoyable. You all are exceptional. I look forward to what the future board does.

Reworked the Youth Scholarship Application and updated the dates
Implemented a 3-year youth membership
Created a Youth Liaison Position
Modernized the Fluff
Modernized the Guidebook
Was able to secure 3 different Fluff Editors
Procured our current Sweeps Chair
Updated procedures for COD
Added an application option for the GFA auction
Added a Youth Committee and established a budget
Added the Youth Liaison as a non-voting member to the board
Updated the procedure and increased the Youth Scholarship from $500 to $1000 for up to 2 members
Added Electronic Voting option
Added a Silent Auction to the banquet
Worked on obtaining a new logo
Came up with proposals for District representation
Implemented a Youth only GFA
Established a Judges Committee
Wrote guidelines for GFA solicitor
Added a Brood Doe option for the GFA
Updated District Director job description
Found two webmasters
Established age of rabbits for the GFA
Moved the Nationals bids to 2 years out
Changed the wording if we should not receive a bid on Nationals from having it at OSRBA to a location NJWRC secures

I look forward to seeing and talking with many of you at Convention. Continued success to our future board. Thank you District 8 for allowing me to represent you.

Can't believe that summer is almost over. As always, it went way too fast!

It is now time to start getting excited for convention and to start getting the rabbitry ready for fall and winter. Cody and I have started power washing all of the cages, replacing/cleaning the plastic behind the cages, washing the shed floor & windows, repairing cages, replacing cage floors, going over JRs and SRs to see if we want to sell any to make room for new JRs, grooming & cutting toe nails on all of the rabbits, and checking our supplies. We also need to pull out our heaters and go over them to make sure that they are ready to keep our rabbits comfy this winter. We do a very thorough cleaning of our exhaust fan to be sure that it is still in great working order for this winter. No stinky stale air for our rabbits.

No matter what kind of rabbitry you have, now is a great time to go over everything and get it all spic and span before winter. Check your supplies and make a list of items to pick up at convention or a local store, if needed. I love having a few extra supplies around incase something breaks.

We are also starting to look over the fall and winter show schedule to decide which ones we want to attend. I love to plan to attend at least 1 or 2 shows that are farther away so we get to see friends from other states. It is also a great way to see how your herd measures up against other breeders that you don't normally get to show against. We have many fun memories of a bunch of us standing around at shows going over each other's JRs and SRs. No matter how long you have been breeding, you can always improve or learn something new.

Happy travels and hope to see you at a show soon!

NATIONAL JERSEY WOOLY RABBIT CLUB 2024 SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

Hello! My name is Sarah Anderson and I'm honored to have been awarded one of the National Jersey Wooly Rabbit Club's Youth Scholarships.

When I was three years old, I got my first rabbit ever, a Jersey Wooly named Secret, and since then I haven't looked back. I joined the American Rabbit Breeders Association (ARBA) in 2008, and have raised Jersey Woolies, Mini Rex, Holland Lops, Himalayans, and Netherland Dwarfs. I currently raise Holland Lops and Netherland Dwarfs, and I help make breeding decisions and evaluate my mom's Jersey Woolies.

My rabbits are more than just a pastime to me; they are my passion. I'm so thankful for all my mentors throughout the years, and the lifelong connections I have made through this hobby. It's been a journey, and I hope to continue with it for years to come, even as I begin college.

This August, I am going to attend Eastern Kentucky University (EKU) to major in Animal Science. I'm excited to start learning about a topic that I'm passionate about, has always interested me, and has been a huge part of my life growing up.

The NJWRC scholarship will greatly aid me as I start this new journey to EKU, and thank you again to the NJWRC Youth Scholarship Committee for selecting me to receive this award.

SARAH ANDERSON

Hi, my name is Carlie Wood, a recent graduate from Northeast Ohio. In my time in high school I was a dual-credit student. I participated in my school's marching band, jazz band, National Honor Society, and Student Council. I also was elected the senior class Vice President.

In the past, I have volunteered at my local food cupboard doing distribution, but I haven't participated recently due to time conflicts. In recent years I have also represented Ohio in the ARBA youth contests.

Raising rabbits has changed my life tremendously; I couldn't imagine life without them. I've often compared how raising rabbits has changed my life in comparison to my peers. The hobby has taught me responsibility, accountability, discipline, and self-confidence. The amount of care and dedication required to show quality rabbits can be taxing but very rewarding. I like to think that raising and showing rabbits has taught me that friendly competition is healthy, as well as how to work hard to achieve my goals.

In the hobby, I've had many highs and lows; it's taught me to stay true to myself and what I'm breeding for. I've learned it's important to trust what I've picked, even if it takes longer to mature than most rabbits. It's also been a form of stability in my life; as I've gone through many different obstacles in life, like my father's deployments or moving houses. The rabbit's gentle but bold nature always seems to help calm me down even on my worst of days.

I would like to thank the National Jersey Wooly Rabbit Club for offering me the honor of earning this scholarship for my academic endeavors. I look forward to showing my last year as a youth and plan to continue showing in open once I age out. In the future, I plan to earn my degree in History within four years through the Honor's Tutorial College at Ohio University and possibly obtain my Judging's License.

CARLIE WOOD

2024 Jersey Wooly Nationals

Youth Best of Breed

Mo Bunnies Domino

Carson and Kainen Reker

Domino has been a family favorite since he came out of the nest box and started exploring. He was born December 5, 2017 and we knew right away he was special! His sire was an amazing little broken blue, More's Grady. His dam is another great More Woolies rabbit, More's Clementine. Grady was 7 years old and had 22 legs when he died. Clementine has 11 legs and will be 8 years old in November. She hangs out in a top cage watching over her kingdom.

Domino has had an amazing show career, starting off in open with numerous BOB, RIS, and BIS. He was Rabbit Of The Year in 2019/2020. 2018/2019 Rabbit Of The Year he was #7 and 2020/2021 Rabbit Of The Year he was #3.

Domino moved over to youth with the 2021/2022 show season and continued his winning. Domino was #7 for 2021/2022 Rabbit of The Year; 4th in the 2022/2023 season; and 4th in the 2023/2024 season. Kainen joined the show team in 2023 and has taken over with a lot of the grooming and showing.

Domino is a character! He loves to play ball. We all love watching him pose himself on the show table. He has a "look at me" attitude. His favorite treats are oatmeal and canned pumpkin. Domino is semi retired, but he loves showing so he will probably go to a few smaller, close to home shows. He recently earned GC Leg #100!

2024 Jersey Wooly Nationals Youth Best Opposite of Breed

John Harris Anderson with JoBre's Janis Joplin

This was my first Nationals show that I was able to attend in person and what a fun but exhausting weekend! Thanks to the Louisiana Jersey Wooly Breeders Association for putting on a great show!

My journey into Woolies began in 2021 when my older brother joined his high school FFA program and decided to show rabbits. Of course I wanted to share in the adventure, so we started with three Jersey Woolies and one Flemish Giant. Our whole family fell in love with the Woolies and we named our rabbitry, JoBre's Rabbitry (each letter in JoBre is the first letter of a family members name!)

I'm grateful for the mentoring I've received from Open breeders and I have really worked on developing my homegrown herd. So, I was very excited when JoBre's Janis Joplin, a homegrown chin junior doe, won Best Opposite Sex at the National Show! She was definitely the keeper of the litter and I can't wait to see how she contributes to my herd!

Convention Tips

by Michaeline McConnell

Convention is almost here! Every rabbit enthusiast should go to an ARBA convention at least once in their life. It is an experience that transcends regular shows. Here you will be immersed in rabbit show culture for 4 - 5 glorious days. You will get to meet the big names and see their stock. You can shop till you drop at the many vendors. There you can spy the newest breeds and varieties vying to be accepted into the ARBA standard of perfection. You can participate at various breed clubs' raffle tables. There will be thousands of rabbit breeders ready and willing to talk "rabbits". And you will be amazed at the thousands of show coops filled with rabbits and cavies from all over. Most come from North America, but there are some exhibits and exhibitors that come from around the globe. It truly is amazing! Yet, it can seem overwhelming. I will try to give you some tips and lists to help you get organized for your first convention.

First, purchase a show catalog. It is available through the host club. www.ARBA.net will have a link to the host convention website. The show catalog will have all your important information, including: all schedules, show rules, important dates, entry information, check-in/check-out info, etc. Once you have your show catalog, put down those important dates and times into a planner/calendar of some sort right away. I suggest noting entry deadline of postmarked mailed entries and online entries, ear change entry deadline, cooping date and time deadline, check in deadline, showroom opening and closing times after cooping, judging times and check out times.

Once you have your basic dates and times, you can then start planning and counting down the days. Many experienced breeders plan for convention at least a year or two in advance, but I have made last minute decisions to attend and found a way to attend despite great distance and a limited budget. Where there is a will, there truly is a way.

Next, you must be an ARBA member to enter. Make sure you are paid up and have your ARBA card. If you do not have your card with you at convention you will have to pay for your membership again at the show in order to complete your check in process.

Realize that convention is just one show. One open rabbit, one youth rabbit, one open cavy, and one youth cavy show is held. Enter something, even if you don't think you have national quality stock. Participate and see how your animal(s) stack up in the judge's opinion. You will end up learning a lot.

To prepare for packing, I like to make mini lists of what I need and what I can obtain at convention.

Rabbit List: * Carriers, *Cups/Water Bottles, *Regular Feed, *Hay (you can bring if driving and if show committee allows), *Supplements (if you use), *Grooming Tools, *Dolly (something to wheel carriers into showroom), *Pee Pads for carriers and for under coops (if show committee allows), *Risers/False Bottoms (rabbits are cooped on solid floors, so risers create a wire bottom), *Cardboard/ Heavy Paper (to line 3 sides of the coops from potentially harmful rabbit neighbors, i.e.: spraying bucks/aggressive neighbors), *Zip Ties/Locks (to secure coop doors and keep prying hands from invading your exhibit's space readily), Small scissors/clippers to take off zip ties, *Small Broom/Dustpan (to clean coop daily when they are over shavings), *Small Watering Can, *Black Sharpie (to write coop numbers in rabbit's right ear), *Large paper bag (to place rabbits in quickly when you are cleaning out their coop on a daily basis-keeps them from running away), *List of rabbits you are showing with coop numbers. Some people like to make a small colorful id tag to identify their coops quickly. All decoration dimensions are noted in the show catalog.

People List: *Show Catalog, *Comfortable Shoes, * Clothing for a week, *Easy to pack snacks and drinks (there are food vendors but lines can get quite long-don't want you to get too hangry!)

Purchase List: *Distilled Water (I do not bring my own nor do I use the local water provided, I find distilled water works well and does not upset the show stock), *Hay (when I am flying in), baby wipes (you will need them for some reason).

RHDV2/COVID19 List: *Virkon/Bleach (in today's world, you have to sanitize everything. Use 1:10 solution in water, must be applied and left wet for 10 minutes in order to be effective), *Empty spray bottle, *Clean new sponge/cloth (for application in coops that cannot be sprayed - has neighbors), *Clorox Bleach Wipes (for quick sanitation), *Clean/New Masks for people (if required. You will notice that no chairs are listed. Chairs are not allowed in the showroom. You will find them only around the food court areas or grooming areas.

Now back to counting down the days!

You will find entries are due about 3 weeks before convention. It is a good idea to have potential backups in the same entered classes in case you have to scratch. You will also notice that convention entries are much more expensive than a regular show, plus there is an extra fee of around $10 for each exhibitor that goes to the ARBA equipment fund. In addition, it is best NOT to wait till the last minute to make and pay for your entries. There is an online entry portal that can go down due to the heavy last day volume. I try to enter a day or two before the last day just to make sure my entries are accepted.

After your entries are submitted, you will get a confirmation and your coop numbers will follow. Then you pray. You pray for coats to stay in, for weather to be mild, for no one to go off feed, etc.

Finally, you make your way to convention and stand before the banner that says, "For The Next Five Days, You Don't Need To Explain To Anyone Why You Show Rabbits." You are at convention!

Now you need to check in at the Check In booth. Make sure you have your ARBA card so you can pick up your packet. It will have your entry list, sales slips and a badge. Your badge allows entry and exit privileges when the convention is under security after coop in time. Find your coops, put the coop numbers in the right ear of you rabbits using your Sharpie (many do this before leaving for convention), place your risers, cups/water bottles and cardboard inside your cage. Place your exhibits in their coops. Feed/ Water and decorate if you want to (if allowed). Let them now rest and adjust.

Usually the schedule is: Saturday is reserved for final check in. Sunday/Monday are judging days. Monday is Best in Show. Tuesday is individual breed awards banquets and new breeds/varieties presentations. Wednesday morning is check out.

I want you to be aware that check out is usually long. Check out packets can be obtained either at the breed booth or Check Out booth. When checking out you load all your rabbits into your carriers and wait either at the breed club booth or the exit doors for someone to check you out. Someone will look at all ear numbers and sales slips to make sure you are not checking out "extra" rabbits or forgetting some. It is a long process but necessary to ensure every rabbit is going home with the right person.

Finally, when convention is over, you will have so many great memories and experience a real "rabbit show hangover". Needless to say, most people will start planning on attending next year because it was so much fun! See you there!

CONVENTION OR NATIONALS CHECKLIST

Note: Many items below will depend on the breeder, and their preferences regarding how they maintain their rabbitry. Not all items are necessary, but you may want to consider for the show. Some items are provided, and will typically be annotated in the catalog, website, Facebook page, etc.

Running Rabbits at Convention 101

What is running rabbits?

The term “running rabbits” refers to the practice of bringing rabbits to the table for judging. At regular shows we run our own rabbits to the table. At ARBA Convention volunteers run rabbits to the table. Running involves bringing rabbits to the table, and when they are done being judged, returning them to their proper coop.

Who are the runners?

Everyone working at the breed table is a volunteer and all runners are volunteers as well. Really, everyone who shows rabbits at convention should volunteer to run some rabbits. This is the best way to ensure that the show runs smoothly, and we have enough help. Each person should run as many rabbits as they are showing, and then a few more, to cover the ones brought by the table help. Ramrods, writers, and clerks cannot leave the table to run rabbits. Right before the show starts, all breeders are asked to gather at the assigned show table for a pre-show meeting. There will be a call for runners, and short instructions given at that time.

How does it work?

Rabbits are cooped by group and class. All delivery to the table, and all judging is done by the coop number to help keep rabbits’ identities unknown to the judge. The Ramrod for the judging table is responsible for keeping the show running, and getting the correct class of rabbits up to the table on time. The Ramrod and the Writer, or Clerk, will put the coop tags on top of the show coops face down when they need rabbits brought up. The runner takes that coop tag, finds the coop number listed on the coop tag, and brings that rabbit to the table, keeping the coop tag with the rabbit. When the rabbit is done being judged, the Ramrod or Writer will place the coop tag face up, and ask that the rabbit be returned to its proper coop by a runner. Again, keep the coop tag with the rabbit and leave it near the coop. A good place to leave the coop tag is just under the front edge of the coop wire. Always double check the coop number in the rabbit’s ear to ensure you are putting the rabbit in the correct coop. Do not rely on the coop tag for this information.

Can I run my own Rabbits?

You may end up running your own rabbits by chance, but it’s much more likely that you will be running others’ rabbits more often than your own.

What else do I need to know about running rabbits?

Although we like to keep the show moving, safety is the number one priority. Remove and replace rabbits as gently as possible. Avoid thrusting, dragging, or tossing rabbits into or out of cages. This is how rabbits get hurt, and even a gentle seeming “toss” can cause a catastrophic outcome for the rabbit. Hold rabbits in a secure manner against your body for support. It is best to run only one rabbit at a time.

Though it may be tempting to decrease the number of times you run back and forth by taking more than one rabbit at a time, please remember that these animals are in a strange place, being handled by unfamiliar people. At any time, a rabbit could get fearful enough to jump out of your arms, and either you or the rabbit could get hurt. Handling one rabbit at a time gives a better chance of both you and the rabbit getting to the table and back unscathed. Think of every rabbit as your own, and handle them as gently as possible. Another tip is to wear long sleeves on show day when running rabbits.

What if a rabbit is hard to handle?

If a rabbit is hard to remove from its cage, or you are afraid of it, either ask someone else to try that rabbit, or bring the card back to the Ramrod, and they will find a way to remove the rabbit.

What if a cage is zip-tied shut or locked shut?

It is the responsibility of each rabbit owner to ensure their cages are unlocked or zip ties cut. This should be done well before the show starts. If you encounter a coop that is zipped or locked shut, bring the card back to the Ramrod for instructions.

Hello all!

This time I have an odd story for you regarding my husband's Mini Lops, one rabbit in particular. A couple of months ago he attended a quad show in Davenport IA. He had a sweet little broken junior doe that was BOB in three of the four shows and was up for Best 4 Class for each of those shows. Fast forward one month. I walked in the rabbit barn and started finding live, new born Mini Lops on the floor. My husband had nothing bred for that timeframe. We start searching the barn to find the mom. You guessed it. . .that sweet little broken junior doe (now just a senior). Needless to say, we were both a bit speechless. We gathered all the babies off the floor and put them in a nest box for the doe. Initially, she had no clue. However within a few hours she was pulling fur and hopping in the box to tend her babies.

My husband wracked his brain to think if this doe was ever on the table, unattended, with a Mini Lop buck. He talked to other breeders that were at the show to see if they had noticed anything unusual. He came up with nothing. Now he's bummed that there will be five pedigrees with one entire side missing.

It wasn't until the babies were out of the nest box and hopping around that the answer became evident. These are not Mini Lop kits. . .too small, too narrow, and the biggest give-away, short, stick-up ears. She had to have accidentally been bred on the 4 Class table.

Maybe this happens more than we realize. We do know that it has never happened in our rabbitry before. I share this story to remind breeders to be vigilant about keeping track of their rabbits when on the show table. In our case, this breeding probably happened in an instant. Curious, motivated rabbits will try and hop from their show box into their neighbor's box. There is a fine line between stepping back from the show table, so the judge doesn't know which rabbit belongs to which breeder, and being a responsible breeder and keeping your rabbit where it belongs.

There is no longer a worry about partially blank pedigrees as the entire litter will go to the cull buyer.

Hello NJWRC Members!

I'm going to keep this short (for a change, LOL)!

June 30th, 2024, marked the end of my TENTH (!) NJWRC season with the NJWRC! Since I began, I've issued over 9,500 sanctions (and well more than that if we're counting the many, many, MANY reissues in the years of Covid). The very 1st sanction was issued on October 9th, 2014.

Congrats to everyone on another great year! I'm happy to report all show results were received in time (it was a bit painful with some, though). The final reports in this Fluff have been on the sweepstakes site for some time, so likely not surprising to most.

A reminder that can't be put out too many times – if I don't have a show listed on the sanctioned shows listing, it should not be considered as NJWRC sanctioned. Please – reach out! If you don't, and for whatever reason the sanction request isn't received in good order, and processed in good time, results can't be honored. The NJWRC has an exceptionally generous policy on this – if mailing, the request just needs to be postmarked prior to the show date. I strongly advise against using the USPS for late-ish requests though, as things do get lost. We've offered fully-functional PayPal since 11/2023 and that should be considered the preferred method. If you are mailing a late-ish request, I'd recommend emailing me for a heads-up just in case.

As some of you know, I will no longer be committing to attend Convention. One of the tasks I've completed during Convention every year for the NJWRC is calculating Best Display. If you're interested in this task, please reach out to me or Cheryl Loesch for information. At the time I write this, I am planning to be in Kentucky for a few days, but can't commit to doing it, so here's a chance to get involved if you love math, LOL!

The 2024-2025 season is underway. Because the new season just began 7/1/2024, there are no 24/25 points in this issue, as very few shows take place in July. Points for the 24/25 season will be added to the site "soon" – most likely early October. I know that seems like a huge gap – but because I hold each month's reports for the updated membership list I receive early the following month – to make it enough shows to have any impact, it really needs to include at least some September reports.

Hope to see you in Kentucky! Safe travels!
