Experience Baltimore History

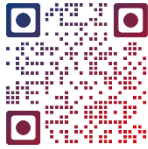

In commemoration of Frederick Douglass' November 17, 1864 historic return to Baltimore, BBH Tours is hosting a multi-day tribute to the legendary abolitionist. Douglass, an enslaved boy, resided in Fell's Point from 1826-1838.

During the week of November 17-22, 2026, BBH Tours will share Mr. Douglass life's work and the freedom trail that led him from Talbot County, Maryland to Baltimore to New Bedford & Lynn Massachusetts, onto England, and a residence in Rochester, New York and finally to his Anacostia home in the District of Columbia. Douglass passed away there on February 20, 1895. Planned activities include discussions, displays, museum tours, walking tours, "sip and bite" foodie tours, entertainment, and shopping throughout the historic Fell's Point district.

Supporters, organizations and businesses are invited to participate as contributing donors, sponsors, or program book advertisers. Please see the next page for sponsorship and program book advertisement opportunities.

Tour registration information and other details will be available at www.bdxlive.biz.

LOU FIELDS is the co-founder and President of the Baltimore African American Tourism Council of MD, Inc. The Council's mission "is to research, preserve, protect and promote Baltimore/Maryland's African American History & Culture, and to utilize this heritage as a vital and beneficial product and a very important part of the Baltimore/Maryland tourism industry." Since 1996, Lou has collaborated with co-founder the late Steven Pace, Errol E. Brown, Sr., and other supporters as the Council has continued to serve as the exclusive statewide minority tourism organization focused on the growth and development of African American tourism in the State of Maryland. In 2006, Lou served as the founding president of the Greater Baltimore Black Chamber of Commerce. With over four decades of experience in tourism and hospitality, Lou remains active in Maryland and Baltimore tourism and heritage preservation sectors. The Council provides services to families, school groups, communities, organizations, and public entities that need heritage tourism development programs, research assistance, and information and referral services. Other services include tours, lectures, exhibits, and special events such as dedications and tributes to notable and unknown Baltimoreans and Marylanders.

Through the Council's tourism division, we provide educational heritage tours in Baltimore and across Maryland, including the popular Frederick Douglass Path to Freedom Walking Tour in historic Fell's Point, Baltimore, Maryland.
