I have been using ProSale for a few months now and it has been a vast improvement over any other online sales tool out there! The support team is extremely responsive and has been a great partner in helping us streamline our online sales. I would highly recommend ProSales to any estate sale company who is looking for a high end and affordable alternative to other online selling tools!

My company has had great success using PROSALE! When the pandemic shut down our estate sale/consignment in-person business, we took steps to set up sales online. We have been so impressed with PROSALE'S excellent customer service, the intuitive nature of their software, and their quick response time if/when issues arise. We can now set up our sales from start to finish within 3 days!

We are now able to run our business entirely online with the help of PROSALE and would highly recommend their services.
