

Disclaimer Policy

Effective Date: May 1, 2022

The following disclaimer applies to all content and materials provided by Maternal Matters Favored ("we," "our," or "us") through our website [mmfavored.org], social media platforms, and any other communication channels. By accessing and using our website and services, you acknowledge and agree to the terms outlined in this policy.

1. General Information

Maternal Matters Favored provides information and resources related to maternal mental health, including support services, educational content, and community outreach programs. The content on our website and related platforms is intended for informational purposes only and is not intended to replace professional medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment.

2. No Medical Advice

The information provided on our website, social media platforms, and other materials is for general informational and educational purposes only. Maternal Matters Favored does not provide medical or psychological treatment services.

- Consult with a healthcare provider: If you are seeking advice on medical, psychological, or mental health concerns, please consult a licensed healthcare provider, therapist, or mental health professional.
 - Individual Needs: The advice, tools, or recommendations provided may not be suitable for your specific needs, and we encourage you to seek professional help when necessary.

3. Accuracy of Information

While we strive to provide accurate and up-to-date information, Maternal Matters Favored makes no representations or warranties regarding the completeness, reliability, or accuracy of the information available on our website. The information may be subject to change and should not be solely relied upon for decision-making.

- No guarantee of outcomes: Any statements about potential outcomes or results are not guaranteed, as individual experiences may vary.

4. Third-Party Links

Our website and social media platforms may include links to third-party websites or resources. These links are provided for convenience and informational purposes. We do not endorse, control, or take responsibility for the content, privacy policies, or practices of third-party websites.

- Use at your own risk: By accessing third-party sites, you acknowledge that you are doing so at your own risk, and we encourage you to review the privacy policies and terms of service of any external site you visit.

5. No Endorsement

Maternal Matters Favored does not endorse or promote any specific products, services, or organizations unless explicitly stated. Any references to specific programs, services, or products are for informational purposes only and do not imply endorsement.

- Partnerships: While we may collaborate with other organizations or service providers, these partnerships do not imply endorsement of their services or products.

6. Limitation of Liability

Maternal Matters Favored is not liable for any damages arising from your use of our website or services, including but not limited to direct, indirect, incidental, punitive, or consequential damages. We make no guarantees regarding the availability, reliability, or functionality of our website and services.

- No responsibility for external factors: We are not responsible for any issues that arise from third-party technologies, networks, or services beyond our control.

7. Privacy and Confidentiality

Please refer to our [Privacy Policy] for detailed information on how we collect, use, and protect your personal information. Your use of our website and services signifies your agreement to our privacy practices.

8. Changes to the Disclaimer Policy

Maternal Matters Favored reserves the right to update or modify this Disclaimer Policy at any time. Any changes will be posted on this page with an updated effective date. It is your responsibility to review this policy periodically to stay informed about any changes.
