Climate and Sustainability Communications

PRESENTATION

Why we exist

- 10 Billion Solutions' (10BS) reason for being, as a Social Enterprise, is to promote and amplify Climate & Sustainable Development Communications, both on behalf of its international clients and on its own.
- Communications are a key dimension to progressing the urgent and much-needed solutions in this essential challenge to humankind. 10BS is part of this momentum.

Our impact in a nutshell

- Marrying the expertise of a communication agency to the flexibility of consulting, 10BS' high value-add is rooted in the unique experience of its founder and CEO, Mariana Castaño Cano, which combines deep expertise in Climate Change (from having served in the UN agency spearheading global climate action and in International Journalism).
- Our team is passionate about making a difference in this crucial arena, team members are experts in their respective fields and fully committed to exceeding clients' expectations in terms of their Climate and Sustainability communication goals.

Our Vision

- By 2050, we will be close to 10 billion people on Earth. We all can help to solve the climate and ecological crisis and prevent health emergencies such as Covid-19, but we need inspiration. We help organizations inspire positive change by refocusing communications on people's needs and hopes for a sustainable future.
- 10 Billion Solutions is growing into a major player in Climate and Sustainability Communication, partnering with various innovative organizations and opinion leaders, as well as with all individuals who seek to make an impact in this arena, providing its expertise to like-minded clients.
- By associating a 360° perspective (international, national, governmental, NGO and private sector dynamics) to an expertise in communication relying on cutting-edge tools & practices, 10 Billion Solutions projects itself as a key influencer for positive change.

Our Values - 10BS' interactions with clients and all stakeholders are based on 5 key values:

1. Honest, Fact-Based, Optimistic Communication, as a vector for climate & sustainability solutions, and relying on positive human behavioral patterns
2. Total commitment to our Clients' success
3. Trust, openness and personal responsibility in all interactions
4. Our actions and priorities are guided by the ultimate impacts on climate and sustainable development
5. Expertise is shared in client engagements and other stakeholders interactions, so that it can have a ripple effect throughout the entire network.
