Team Links™ Meetings

Overview

A well designed meeting is a powerful vehicle for working smarter, building trust, and liberating people to think together in the best possible way.

Whether it is a weekly meeting, retreat or series of strategic planning sessions, we provide clients with the tools, expertise, and support that enable participants to better collaborate, problem solve, and make decisions.

"One of the best and most productive meetings I have ever attended."

Client Needs and Goals

We first meet with clients to identify meeting needs, goals, and timeline requirements.

We provide clients with a sounding board and confidential space to think out loud about desired outcomes, meeting content, and group dynamics.

Outcome Driven Agendas

Once meeting goals are identified, we work with clients to think strategically and help design an outcome-driven agenda.

We provide a myriad of tools and strategies for sharing information, getting input, and engaging in collaboration.

"Experiential Leadership Partners (ELP) provided essential support for our strategic planning process, transforming the culture of how problems are discussed and decisions are made in our department."

Maximizing Brain Power and Time

A well run meeting maximizes the brain power of everyone in the room. We work with clients to strategically select from a wide variety of participation formats to maximize engagement, focus discussion, and make meetings a valuable use of everyone's time.

Collaboration and Decision-Making

We work with the client to identify how decisions in your organization are made and provide invaluable tools for decision makers to engage in an efficient, transparent, and collaborative decision-making process.

Meeting Facilitation

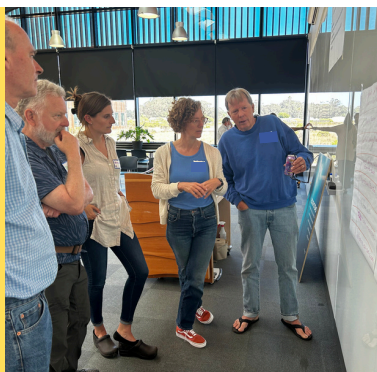

Our meeting facilitators are experts who manage the group process, so that you can focus on the content of your meeting.

Your facilitator will help capture the thinking in the room, keep track of time, manage transitions, and provide process expertise in service of helping you reach your meeting goals.

"We were able to break down barriers between factions, create a consistent process for decision-making, manage expectations as to outcomes, and build a wonderful product that reflected a truly collaborative process."

"ELP helped create structure for us to work creatively, thoughtfully, and respectfully."
