This is an open letter to anyone who is considering adding Eve Hoehl to their bench. First, I am personally jealous of whatever team ends up with the privilege of adding Eve to their roster. I cannot say enough good things about this Player. I had the pleasure of having her on my bench as part of my Team Indiana showcase group last summer. She was not necessarily my oldest player, but she was my most mature player from several aspects.

In our first tournament of the year, we were missing several of our regularly rostered players and therefore, found ourselves in a high-level tournament playing with a short and somewhat inexperienced bench. I knew Eve was a special player, but she certainly showed her true colors during those four games. Words and phrases I would use to describe her are: coachable, leader, high hockey IQ, hard worker, makes other players better, positive, leads by example, punctual, does what's necessary for team success over self. There were multiple times when I had to ask her to do things that were above and beyond like double shift or play a different position. Over and over Eve did those things and more with a smile and gratitude, even telling me thank you for the opportunity when she left.

Congratulations to the program that catches this kid's eye. She will be valuable on and off the ice and instrumental in building the kind of culture that all groups strive for. Eve is the type of player every team hopes to have!
