Dear NSPRA Members

The summer rodeo season will end this week and then awaiting all of you members is the finals.

A big thank you, goes out to all board members and NSPRA members who put on rodeos for the members this year. You have no idea what goes into one until to put one on. So please thank those who took the time, their own money and energy to put them on for the membership.

We have over two hundred members this year and many have expressed interest in attending our finale, it will be one to remember and participate in. October 19-23, Buckeye AZ is the place. Please see the schedule for the finals on our website.

Cindy Gruell has planned many fun activities along with the Hall of fame Banquet which will honor Larry and the late Jean Swanson along with Jess Marshall, both of whom are still participating at over 85 years of age.

The board has also changed our leadership structure and has eliminated the office of President and Vice President from the bylaws and reverting to the articles of incorporation. The association will now be run by the executive board and each year the board will appoint a chairman of the board to speak on the board's behalf. The association has made great strides this year recovering from the COVID effects of last year. We are financially in good shape to continue and grow.

It has certainly been a challenge being President the past two years, but the new member interest has been exciting for me to see and as always, the people are what makes this association great and fun to be a part of.

I look forward to seeing you all at the finals.

Regards:

Curt Johnston President.
