Introducing Ladybird Readers

From learning their very first words in English to reading confidently on their own, Ladybird Readers promise to make growing up the best story ever, for children everywhere.

Whether it is starting to say 'Hello' with Spot, discovering the magic of fairy tales with Cinderella and Aladdin, or finding out about the world around them with BBC Earth, our carefully graded ELT Readers will inspire everyone as they begin their reading journey.

To bring our books to life in the classroom or at home, visit www.vicensvives.com/ladybirdreaders to download free audio, digital books, lesson plans and plenty of extra activities.

Finding the right Ladybird Reader level for your students

1 Beginner stage (Beginner to Level 1)

Children will use bottom-up processes to start to identify the sounds made by the letters, and will rely on their knowledge of the top-down general meaning of the story. They will use clues from the pictures and the shape of a word.

2 Mastering decoding (Levels 2 to 3)

Young learners will be able to recognise familiar words and read short parts of the text with clear pronunciation.

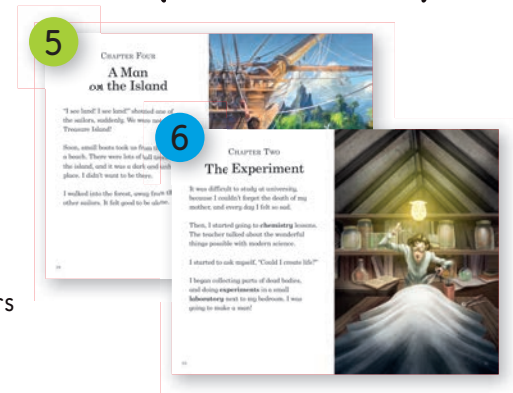

3 Reading independently (Level 4)

Young learners will be able to use both top-down and bottom-up strategies independently with graded readers. They are ready to read on their own and to choose their own books.

4 Established readers (Levels 5 to 6)

Young learners will be confident readers, able to categorise information from the text, retell and summarise the stories, predict events, and understand the characters and their motives.

PHONICS IN ENGLISH LANGUAGE TEACHING

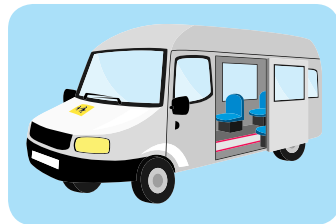

What is phonics?

Phonics is a way of teaching children to read by helping them to understand the relationships between letters, sounds, and words. It is a popular teaching method for native English speakers, and is increasingly used with children who are learning English as a foreign language. This is because it gives children the tools they need to improve their reading, writing, and pronunciation.

Children learn how to read by blending sounds to make a word:

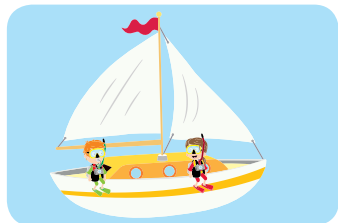

hat → h/a/t → "hat"

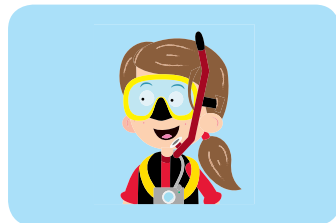

bus → b/u/s → "bus"

They learn how to spell by segmenting a word into sounds:

"boat" → b/oa/t → boat

"look" → l/oo/k → look

How can I introduce phonics?

Phonics teaching can be introduced in the classroom or at home using short activities and games.

Make children aware of sounds common in English and in their first language wherever possible. Use words the children know to highlight and identify sounds.

1. Use flashcards or objects

Find the sound: stick a selection of flashcards on the wall, or put them down on the floor or table.

Ask the children to find words with a particular sound, such as /e/. Try using a different sound each day.

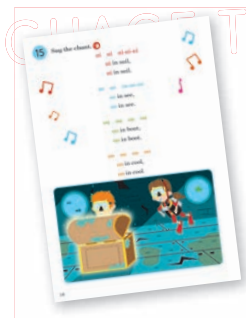

Sound pairs: ask the children to sort through the flashcards to find words with matching sounds, such as beard and gears, or tap and tin.

2. Use chants, songs, and rhymes

Familiarise children with natural rhythm and rhyme by learning nursery rhymes, songs, and chants.

A phonics chant is included at the back of every Ladybird Readers Starter Activity Book, and audio downloads of the chants are available on the website: www.vicensvives.com/ladybirdreaders

3. Use story books or graded readers

Storytelling helps children to develop linguistically, cognitively, and emotionally. Stories explore familiar themes and provide a playful and imaginative context for children to experiment with the sounds of English.

LEVELS 5 & 6

Levels 5 & 6 of our Ladybird Readers series include more well-known classics stories and incredible non-fiction, told at a higher language level. With single page illustrations that feel more like chapter books, our new levels allow students to read great stories which use more words and introduce new grammar structures. A glossary can be found at the back of the book to help with introducing new vocabulary.

Glossary includes key words and basic definitions

Suddenly, I saw something strange through the trees. As it came up to me, I saw that it was a man! He threw himself down on the ground.

"I'm Ben Gunn," he said. "Three years ago, I came here with a crew to look for Flint's treasure. We couldn't find it, and the sailors left me here. I built a small boat, but I can't sail it far from the island."

Then, I told him about Long John Silver and the pirates on our ship.

Project

23 Robert Louis Stevenson wrote Treasure Island in 1883. Look online, or in the library, and answer the questions below in your notebook.

- Where was Robert Louis Stevenson born?
- Which other books did he write?
- When did he die?
- Are there any famous movies of Treasure Island?
- Which character would you like to be in the book, and why?

Now, work in a group to make a poster about Robert Louis Stevenson.

GRAMMAR WORKBOOKS

Ladybird Readers Grammar Workbooks help students understand some of the new grammar structures that are introduced in each level of the Readers. Carefully graded and mapped against the CEFR, these engaging books include a brief explanation of each grammar point along with exercises to help the student practise what they are learning.

LEVEL 1

Nouns

To talk about one thing, we use n.

To talk about more than one thing, we add s or es.

Uncountable nouns also use s.

Noun is a word that is a person, a place, or a thing. Singular one thing. Plural more than one thing. Countable you can count the number of things (three apples). Uncountable you can not count the number of things (water, milk).

Examples: dog, cat, book, dogs, cats, books, water, milk, people, people.

LEVEL 3

Verb + ing

After some verbs, we use the ing form. We make it like this.

For lots of words, we add -ing .	Sometimes we double the last letter.	Sometimes we take away e .
sing singing	run running	dance dancing

ing words are action words. We use ing after verbs of liking and disliking.

Examples: I like eating fish. We don't enjoy walking.

And other verbs of movement: finish start stop go

Remember that some -ing words are nouns and some are verbs.

LEVEL 2

Match

- 1 I like eating oranges.
- 2 You love jumping.
- 3 I didn't finish playing tennis.
- 4 The girl stopped doing my school work yesterday.

Write sentences

- 1 walking / Did / go / on the weekend? / your friends
... Did your friends go walking at the weekend?
- 2 doesn't / like / He / drinking milk.
... He doesn't like drinking milk.
- 3 go / to / New York / We / didn't
... We didn't go to New York.
- 4 enjoy / playing / He / football.
... He enjoys playing football.

LEVEL 4

Present perfect verbs

We use the present perfect to talk about something that has happened in the past.

Eye-watching	have	been watching
Has he been watching?	has	been watching
Has he been watching?	has	been watching

Examples: Have you ever been fishing? Yes, I have! I've been fishing lots of times. Have you ever had a birthday party? Yes, she has. She's had a lot of parties. Have they ever seen an alien? No, they haven't. They have never seen an alien.

LEVEL 5

I / We shall + verb for future

We use I / We shall + verb to talk about what we are planning to do in the future.

Examples: I shall open my parents' room tomorrow on my birthday. We shall get a new car next year.

Write suggestions:

- 1 I shall / tomorrow. I shall get your shirt.
- 2 I shall / tomorrow. I shall get your shirt.
- 3 I shall / tomorrow. I shall get your shirt.

Write about your plans for next weekend:

- 1 I shall...
- 2 I shall...

LEVEL 6

Present perfect with already and yet

We use already before the main verb to talk about something that has happened by now.

We use yet at the end of questions to ask whether something has happened by now.

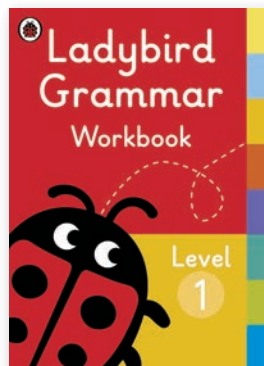

Examples: Has Paul already finished his homework? Yes, he has. Has he already started his homework? Yes, he has. Have they yet seen an alien? No, they haven't. Has she already left school? She hasn't yet.

Write answers to the questions. Use the present perfect with already or yet.

- 1 When does Tim start his car school? He has already started his car school.
- 2 When will you like to travel? I have already decided.
- 3 What time is dinner? We have dinner at 7 o'clock.
- 4 When are Lisa and Anton going on holiday? They have already decided.
- 5 Does your brother want to watch this film? He has already watched it.

Look and write questions and answers. Use the present perfect with already or yet.

- 1 Look and write a question. Use the present perfect with already or yet.
Question: Have Lisa and Anton been to the beach yet?
Answer: Yes, they have already been to the beach.
- 2 Write a question. Use the present perfect with already or yet.
Question: Has she already left school?
Answer: No, she hasn't yet.
- 3 Answer the questions about grammar.
1. What have you already done today?
2. What haven't you done yet?
