

Description

This is a contract to hire position.

Jet Aircraft Support Inc. provides maintenance services to corporate aircraft. The company is based in the DFW metroplex and has an additional base in Austin, TX. We are seeking an Airframe & Powerplant Technician for our Austin base. The position will primarily respond to AOG events.

The essential functions include, but are not limited to, the following duties:

Job Responsibilities

- Can work independently or under minimum supervision.
- Prioritizes and maintains maintenance event schedules, as needed.
- Troubleshoots repairs, inspects, and performs maintenance on customer aircraft in accordance with applicable technical data and FAA regulations.
- Will be required to make aircraft logbook entries and release aircraft for return to service.
- Ensures compliance with FAA regulations and manufacturer's recommendations.
- Prepares and maintains documents related to work activities in accordance with regulations and company policies.
- Travel can be up to 50 % to various locations.
- Performs other duties as assigned.

Qualifications

- Current and valid FAA Airframe & Powerplant License is required.
- 4+ years directly related aviation experience (corporate aircraft experience preferred)
- Must have a valid state driver's license.
- Must be a U.S. Citizen or Naturalized U.S. Citizen.
- Must pass an DOT/FAA Pre-Employment Drug Screen.
- Must be willing to work nights, weekends and holidays.
- Must be able to communicate effectively through email/phone.

We are a team based operation and are looking for an individual who works well in a team and can lead as needed.

Location

Austin, Texas

Please submit a resume to employment@jasmx.com.

Jet Aircraft Support Inc., brings together a set of skills and experiences in all aspects of aviation maintenance. Providing maintenance to both planned and unplanned events with a focus on AOG coordination and response.

Our team of highly technical and skilled professionals allows us to satisfy the aviation maintenance needs of any customer. Our fully A&P licensed, DOT FAA drug approved technicians have the experience to provide aviation services to our customers. The company is fully insured to protect the interest of our customers.

Jet Aircraft Support Inc., is your solution for all things aircraft maintenance related.

Primarily