

Become a champion.

The Cará Origin Motorsport School offers an elite program designed to bring the next generation of talent behind the wheel of an FIA Formula 4 car. Our 2-day race simulation provides aspiring drivers with an immersive experience in professional racing. This includes intensive ground school instruction, on-track practice sessions, and qualifying and race simulations, supported by extensive coaching and data analysis. Each participant receives a customized driver development training program and full race weekend support, using the same conditions as a professional racing environment. With exclusive access to the 2.38-mile (3.83 km) track at MSR Houston, drivers will have the opportunity to refine and perfect their skills. Drivers who graduate from this program have the opportunity to compete at the Circuit of the Americas during the final 2024 F4 race weekend.

Come take the first step in becoming the next generation of Formula One talent.
