RSE (Relationships and Sex Education), is a mandatory subject in UK schools covering Relationships Education, Health Education, and non-statutory Sex Education.
It is the legal right of parents to request their child be withdrawn from the Sex Education component of RSE, but not from Relationships or Health Education. This withdrawal is generally permitted until a child is within three terms of their 16th birthday, after which the child has the choice to opt-in.
If you wish to withdraw your child from any of the above topics, or from Sex Education in general, please place a tick next to the lessons you wish us to omit from their curriculum, and sign below.
Kind regards
