

His grace is sufficient

grace*

Love comes from God

A black and white line drawing of a bird's nest. The nest is a large, shallow bowl filled with many small, pointed leaves. Several birds are scattered around the nest, some perched on the edges and others in the background. The birds have speckled patterns on their bodies and are looking in various directions. In the center of the nest, there is a large, ornate, scalloped-edged frame containing text. The text is written in a simple, sans-serif font. At the bottom of the frame, there is a small signature in a cursive font.
