Welcome, John — we're excited to walk you through your Power Profile,

This isn't just an assessment. It's a personalized blueprint for how you lead, inspire, and make lasting impact.

Your influence isn't just a soft skill — it's how you lead in real time. It shapes decisions, earns trust, and drives how others respond to your ideas and presence.

This report goes beyond who you are. It captures how your leadership shows up — and how others experience your influence in the moment.

Developed by the Elite Leadership Center, the TECCA Influence System™ and the Five Foundations of Influence Framework™ are grounded in validated, evidence-based domains. They define and assess how influence is built, earned, and sustained—practical and Proven!

People may seek your input, but not always your direction. Anchor in the Foundations of credibility and adaptability. The next stretch isn't about effort — it's about alignment. Align your habits, message, and presence. Rise with purpose.*

Summary & Growth Focus

This final section brings your report together with key takeaways, coaching direction, and a clear path to strengthen your leadership.

You create connection through consistency, humility, and service. As a Trust Builder™, your influence flows from quiet integrity and presence. Others know you'll show up, follow through, and keep your word — and that builds powerful trust over time.

Your emotional reactivity or rigidity under stress may destabilize your leadership. As a Rigid Reactor™, small disruptions can feel overwhelming. Pausing, breathing, and adapting with calm presence strengthens trust and steadies your team.

Adaptability is your lowest influence area. Rigidity restricts influence. Ask yourself: where are you resisting change that's already happening? Small mindset shifts, a willingness to try, and openness to feedback can turn uncertainty into leadership opportunity.

Your greatest influence strength right now is Credibility. People trust you to deliver. That trust gives you room to challenge, lead, and influence deeper.
