

Our Community Prayer for April
Trusting the Movement of Life

With each breath, I center my awareness and attention. I welcome the idea that I am naturally attuned to the upward call of Life, connected with an Infinite Creative Power.

I am now and always energized with Divine Life. Responding to that Power, I affirm my willingness to be transformed by Love and Joy. Love inspires my action, and Joy fulfills my expectations.

I celebrate the life energy that moves in and through me, forming my thoughts, words, and experiences. I recognize it as the movement in my life from good to greater good. I am grateful for the expansion of Good in my life. And so it is.
