COURT ORDERED ELECTRONIC MONITORING

ELECTRONIC MONITORING; AN ADDITION TO A BAIL APPLICATION

OUR “EZPAY” MONITORING PROGRAM MAKES IT AFFORDABLE FOR EVERYBODY

- Lawyers seeking a pre-trial release for their clients are achieving added success simply by including Electronic Monitoring as part of the bail application.
- The Court must decide the following: If by using Electronic Monitoring will the risk of the applicant fleeing (or committing an offence) while on bail be reduced to a lower level than what the risk would be by not using Electronic Monitoring.
- Courts are increasingly accepting Electronic Monitoring as a proven risk-management tool when they must decide whether or not an individual will be released on bail.
- The number of bail applications granted in Canada where Electronic Monitoring has been added as part of a bail release is steadily increasing.
- We can also supply affidavits to the Court, or we can testify at bail hearings if the Court would like to have a better understanding of the benefits when using Electronic Monitoring, or if defence wants to have a greater impact.

Court Ordered Electronic Monitoring is a division of TrāTek Industries Inc., (formally Trace Canada).
