About 5 years ago, SJS had an opportunity to be part of an amazing organization called Operation Rescue. Led by Dave and Marsha Gantz, this organization builds houses for families in El Salvador. Through the generosity of our school families, we were able to donate enough money to build two houses. Now Dave and Marsha are telling the story of Operation Rescue in their book- The Master Builder and the Workers. It is available on Amazon in paperback and Kindle versions, in case any of our SJS families are interested in learning more about their journey.

The authors describe their personal journey to serve the "poorest of the poor" in El Salvador by building homes. This book depicts how and why they got started and the many spiritual experiences they encountered along the way. Over a seven year period they have built a total of one hundred and twenty-five homes and roofed over one thousand existing homes. Follow their journey and maybe you will also be inspired to find your ministry to serve.

Angel Tree Giving Opportunity

Each year the profits from our Kris Kringle Shop benefit a local charity. This year, 1/3 of the money is going to fulfill Christmas wishes for children in the Salvation Army Angel Tree program. We are partnering with Sliman's Dodge/Jeep in Amherst to help fill these tags.

SJS families have an opportunity to help shop for these children on Saturday, November 20th at Target in Amherst. We have 8 tags to fulfill and $55 to put towards each child. Families that would like to participate can RSVP on the sign up genius below. Once everyone is signed up, we will meet up according to the directions on the sign-up, divide up, and shop! Parent Club will kick in the $55 and if families and groups would like to go above and beyond, that will be up to them. After check-out is complete, the unwrapped gifts will be taken straight to Sliman's to deliver in time for the deadline! The link to sign-up is below!

THE SJS STUDENT VENDOR CRAFT SHOW IS BACK!

You're invited to be a vendor at our third Student Vendor Craft Show! This event will feature ALL student vendors showcasing a variety of hand-crafted goods. In order to avoid many vendors selling the same types of products, we are asking each vendor interested to fill out a proposal to be submitted for consideration. Please fill out the proposal below and return it to the school office by Friday, December 10th with your $15 booth fee. Letters of acceptance will go out before Christmas break so each vendor has plenty of time to create their products before the BIG day!
