

Promised Land: Atv Race Report

By Dominique Wilson

In an exciting ATV Micro race, Ryder Tenney dominated from start to finish, securing both the overall and class victories. Kolson Conklin fought hard, exchanging positions throughout the race, and ultimately claimed 2nd overall while winning his class. Brody Herrington maintained a steady pace and finished 3rd overall, just one second behind Kolson, earning 2nd in his class.

Cael Hoover clinched 1st place overall. Initially in second, Cael seized the lead when Kelci, who was leading, faced a breakdown on the final lap. Bret Scott maintained a strong performance, securing 2nd place overall and in his class. Kimber Lowry showcased determination, climbing from 6th place on the first lap to finish 3rd overall and in her class.

Steven Harrell took the lead early on and secured both the overall and class wins with a 4-minute and 14-second lead. David Muchisko maintained a steady pace, holding 2nd place throughout the race to finish 2nd overall and 2nd in his class. Trevor Meadows clinched 3rd overall and achieved a class victory with an impressive 14-minute advantage.
