

St. Royale Green Tea Peach Vodka

How It's Made

St. Royale Green Tea Peach Vodka is a refreshing blend of neutral grain spirits, green tea extract, organic peach flavor, and natural honey. By using honey as our only natural sweetener we can provide one of the lowest calorie beverages on the market today that is Gluten-Free. Through normal distillation many of the impurities that are found in Vodka are removed. By way of small batches our product is six-times distilled, which allows us to take advantage of a refined product by adding the green tea extract in at just the right time - after the third distillation cycle, allowing more of the tea to remain and there by becoming more potent. The Vodka is then distilled three more times removing any more toxins and combining the Vodka, green tea, peach, and honey. The result is a crisp and clear Vodka with a smooth and invigorating taste. Each time consumers take a sip, they not only will experience a luxury beverage, but also join us in our support of the bee species. Honeybee populations around the world have been declining, and so, St. Royale Vodka has partnered with the BEE Girl Organization in their efforts to help protect the bees that produce the honey needed to create our product and so much more!
