

Here's a comprehensive chart incorporating all the elements discussed regarding Romans Chapter 1:

Element	Description	Example
Who	Author: Apostle Paul Audience: Christians in Rome
What	Introduction, desire to visit, gospel as power for salvation, unrighteousness of humanity
Where	Written from Corinth
When	Approximately AD 56-57
Why	Establish doctrinal foundations, unify believers, emphasize need for salvation
How	Logical arguments, scriptural references, rhetorical devices
Relevant Lessons	Universal sinfulness, power of the gospel, consequences of rejecting God, unity in Christ, relevance for today
Making Jesus Happy	Embrace and share the gospel faithfully, live lives of obedience and righteousness, seek unity and love, acknowledge need for salvation, grow in relationship with God
One Thing to Glean	Universal need for salvation through faith in Jesus Christ
Logical Arguments	Paul presents ideas in a coherent and reasoned manner, using logical reasoning to support his points.	In verses 18-20, Paul logically argues that God's existence and attributes are evident from creation itself, leading to the conclusion that all people are without excuse for not acknowledging God.
Scriptural References	Paul refers to Old Testament scriptures to support his arguments and teachings.	In verse 17, Paul quotes from Habakkuk 2:4, saying, "The righteous shall live by faith," providing biblical backing for his assertion that righteousness comes through faith in Christ.
Rhetorical Devices	Paul employs various rhetorical techniques to persuade and engage his audience.	Paul uses repetition in verses 24-32, repeatedly stating "God gave them up" to emphasize the consequences of human sinfulness and divine judgment for turning away from God.

This chart provides a structured and comprehensive breakdown of all the elements discussed regarding Romans Chapter 1, including logical arguments, scriptural references, and rhetorical devices.