Empower Her Journey

We've created a culturally safe program to support First Nations women to start and grow their businesses – bringing together workshops, mentoring, and networking in one powerful journey!

The Program includes:

- Two-Day Workshops – interactive sessions on business planning, fundamentals, and funding.
- One-on-One Mentoring – personalised support to refine models, set goals, and overcome challenges.
- Group Mentoring & Peer Learning – connect, share, and learn together.
- Masterclasses – expert-led training in marketing and finance.
- Networking & Partnerships – build connections with other Aboriginal women-led business

Empower Her Journey

The Empower Her Journey Program, will be delivered by two First Nations businesswomen Jess Morris – Wiradjuri & Wailwan, and Kat Henaway – Meriam & Mua, Torres Strait Islander.

It is designed specifically for First Nations Women to build economic independence through micro-enterprise development.

Participants will receive hands-on guidance from an idea to launching their business, including:

- Building essential business skills
- Developing sustainable strategies
- Accessing funding and resources
- Connecting with other Aboriginal-led businesses
- Mentoring and ongoing support
- Strengthening cultural knowledge and business confidence
