DECLARATION OF INTERDEPENDENCE

Statement of Vision, Mission, Purpose, and Commitment

California is a

Nation State.

We are many parts, but we are one body

—there is a mutuality and a recognition of our interdependence.

–Governor

Gavin Newsom

Our vision is to unite people, cultures, and governments, around better serving each individual and the greater collective community.

Our mission is to activate the unlimited human potential, held in this collective community, and represented by the fundamentally interdependent areas of knowledge, economy, environment, technology, business, and services.

The KollaborNation Partnership supports the collective community systems, a trusted web of support that connects people to needed organizations and services, so that all may achieve greater levels of productivity and success. We actively champion and protect the diversity of cultures and perspectives in our collective communities through partnerships and collaborative efforts that serve and support the benefit of all.

The KollaborNation Partnership encourages beneficial curiosity and the ability to make mistakes and forgive. We commit to reflecting and learning from the past. We promise that we will bring the hard conversations to light. We commit to all voices being heard, valued and included.

Ultimately, our success is measured by the lives we touch in an innovative and beneficial way and the real-time solutions reached for a just and resilient future for all.

As a WholeOCRACY, we are...
One People, One Government, One System, One World!
