Why SideSpeak – Corporate

Q. What missing feature in your current businesss online meeting software limits your overall productivity?

A. The ability to host a private video conversation with another participant during an active meeting.

Have you attended a virtual conference and needed to privately meet with one of the other remote participants but had to wait until after the meeting?

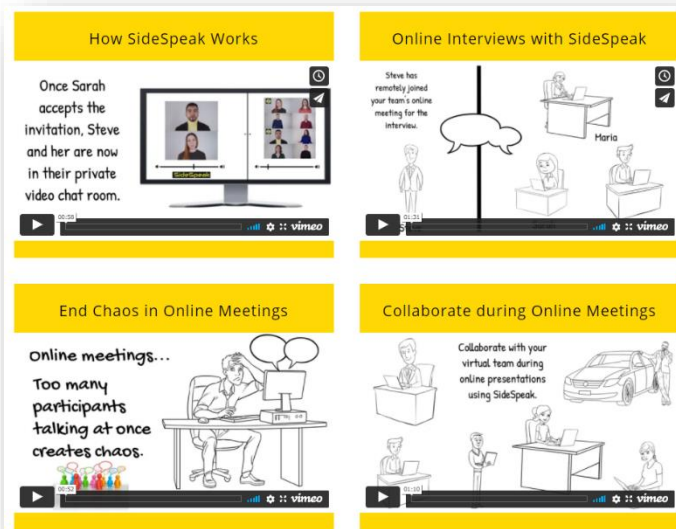

Sometimes using the Zoom native 'Chat' feature simply isn't enough and as a basic user, you don't have access to create or manage "Breakout" rooms.

SideSpeak is the only solution to initiate a secure, private video conversation within your existing virtual conference software.
