

Terms and Conditions

By agreeing you are consenting to the following:

Your Child's Input

- The client will receive services from a speech and language therapist acting on behalf of Beyond Speech. This may include assessment, therapeutic intervention, and/or advisory input in relation to the client's speech, language, and communication needs.

Sharing Information

- The therapist will share relevant assessment, and therapy reports with other professionals involved in the client's care, including but not limited to school staff, Educational Psychologists, General Practitioners (GPs), and allied health providers, where appropriate and in line with consent procedures.
- In cases where parents or guardians are separated or divorced, it is the policy of Beyond Speech to share all assessment findings and therapy-related information with all individuals who hold parental responsibility, ensuring transparency and equitable access to information
- The appointed therapist will liaise with any relevant external providers involved in the client's care, as appropriate. This may include sharing copies of initial assessment reports and subsequent review documentation to support coordinated service delivery.

Initial Assessment and Reports

- The initial assessment will include gathering information from parents/carers (both directly and indirectly), assessing the client, and producing a written report when requested. This report will outline the therapist's clinical decisions regarding diagnosis, advice, and potential intervention targets (where required or requested). We aim to complete all clinical reports within 10 working days. However, this timeframe cannot always be guaranteed, and delays may occur in exceptional circumstances.
- The final report represents the clinician's professional judgement and must remain their own work to ensure clarity, integrity, and informed decision-making. Edits are generally limited to minor corrections. Content changes are only made in exceptional cases, such as correcting misquotations, and must never compromise the accuracy or integrity of the clinical findings.

Video

- At times, the client may be videoed or photographed for therapeutic purposes, for example to record speech before and after therapy.

- These recordings form part of the child's medical file and, in line with professional liability insurance requirements, will be securely stored for 7 years after therapy concludes.
- For children under the age of 18, records will be retained until they reach the age of 25

- The information collected is necessary to provide a safe and competent Speech and Language Therapy service.
- Personal details will not be shared without your consent.
- You will only be contacted in relation to assessment, therapy, or essential service matters.
- Your email address will be stored securely and will never be used for spam.

Parental Responsibility

- Only parents or carers with parental responsibility may provide consent for treatment.
- By signing our consent form, you confirm that you hold parental responsibility.
- Parental responsibility refers to the legal rights, duties, powers, and authority a parent has in relation to a child and the child's property.
- A person with parental responsibility has the right to make decisions about the child's care and upbringing.
- Important decisions in a child's life must be agreed upon with all others who hold parental responsibility

BIOLOGICAL MOTHERS - Automatically have parental responsibility for their children.

MARRIED FATHER/PARTNERS - Automatically have parental responsibility and do not lose it, even on divorce.

UNMARRIED FATHERS/PARTNERS - Do not have automatic parental responsibility but may obtain it by marrying the mother; having their name registered or re-registered on the birth certificate (see below); making a parental responsibility agreement with the mother; obtaining a parental responsibility order from the Court; obtaining a residence order from the court, or becoming the child's guardian.

UNMARRIED FATHERS will, after December 2003, have automatic parental responsibility for their children if they have registered as the father (Children's Act 1989, s.4 and Births and Deaths Registration Act 1953, s.10). If a child was born before 2003, and the father was not named on the birth certificate, that child can be re-registered and the father named.

Once this has been done, the father will automatically have parental responsibility.

In the case of separated or divorced parents/guardians: it is our company policy to share information concerning assessments and therapy with all parents or guardians who have parental responsibility. Please advise your therapist of the name and address of any parent that also holds parental responsibility but does not live in the same home as the client.

Where one parent/guardian has had parental responsibility removed by the court, you will need to provide evidence, such as a court order.

- Only the person with parental responsibility can legally give consent for your child's therapy.
- When someone other than the person with parental responsibility takes your child to an appointment (i.e. grandparent, childminder), we need to be assured that they have parental consent to do so. A note signed by the person with parental responsibility or giving verbal consent at the previous appointment would be required.
