

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy outlines how we make use of the information you submit to us during registration. Please note that this privacy policy does not apply to any information you provide to third parties in connection with websites created by AdvantageHRServices.net.

AdvantageHRServices.net reserves the right to modify this privacy policy at any time. To protect your interests, please visit this page periodically to review the current terms of our privacy policy.

Collected Information

Personal information is requested when you register to become a member. During registration, you are asked to provide your name, email address, postal or zip code, etc. The more information you submit and the more accurate it is, the better we are able to tailor our services to your needs.

Additional information, such as your IP address, operating system, or browser information, may be collected whenever you interact with us or our website. We collect this information in order to compile usage statistics.

Information that you provide for any third-party integration within our website builder is used to connect the integration to your account only. Depending on the integration, we may store your account ID, your access token, and certain pieces of information that are returned by the integration in order to maintain the connection between your third-party integration and your corresponding account. You may also be contacted by AdvantageHRServices.net's designated customer review software provider for customer experience and service feedback.

Cookies

Whenever you interact with us or our website, AdvantageHRServices.net may place a "cookie" in the browser files of your computer. Cookies are data files that help your browser communicate with AdvantageHRServices.net.

Most browsers are set to accept cookies by default. You can reject or block cookies by changing your browser settings. However, if your browser rejects or blocks a cookie, it may impact your ability to use some of our website and our service.

Use of Information

AdvantageHRServices.net's purpose in collecting personal information is to identify the member as well as to send recent updates and important announcements via post and/or email. In order to serve our members better, we do research on our members' demographics and interests based on the information you submitted to us upon registration.

We will not disclose or transfer your personal information to any third parties except as outlined in this privacy policy. We reserve the right to disclose or transfer your personal information under the following conditions:

1. We have your consent to do so.
2. We believe that it is necessary to do so in order to respond to any claims.
3. We believe that it is necessary to do so in order to comply with the law, legal processes, or authorities.
4. We believe that it is necessary to do so in order to protect the rights, property, interests, or safety of AdvantageHRServices.net, our employees, our users, or the public.
5. We are required to do so in connection with an acquisition, merger, or sale of all or a portion of our business.

Online Security

The online transaction processing is provided by Square using the highest commercially available encryption technology - Extended Validation (EV) SSL Certificate encryption. All confidential information is automatically encrypted before it is transmitted, to protect the data from being read and interpreted.
