

Consultancy Scope and Professional Advice Policy

Trade Leads UK provides practical construction and commercial support, not regulated professional advice.

Consultancy may include supplier sourcing, material sourcing, vehicle sourcing, insurance sourcing introductions, training provider sourcing, operational support, haulage/logistics advice, waste/disposal advice, on-site assessments where suitable, document explanation in plain English and tender/procurement/buying advice.

Trade Leads UK does not provide legal advice, financial advice, tax advice, insurance advice, design advice, engineering advice, regulated procurement advice, quantity surveying advice, health and safety consultancy or building control advice unless separately confirmed with a qualified professional.

Where formal advice is required, the Client should instruct a qualified solicitor, accountant, insurance broker, engineer, quantity surveyor, health and safety consultant or other appropriate professional.
