

Questions About Philo & Daily Study of God's Word

By Pastor Ed Anderson

I woke up this morning in tears...this seminar, more specifically, this "daily bread" is going to end soon...where is Pastor Ed Anderson going? What is he teaching on next so I can study and be prepared? Does he teach every day? with this much depth? How do we maintain contact? I have developed "philo" love for him and not just for him only, but for everyone listening to him. I love to live in this Light!

Answer:

Your message touched me deeply. I can feel the sincerity of your heart and the work that God's Spirit has been doing in your life through this seminar. It's moments like these that remind me why we preach, teach, and study together—because the Word of God truly transforms hearts and builds bonds of genuine Christian love.

You're absolutely right—what you're describing is "philo" love, the brotherly affection that grows in a family of faith. And that's exactly what this has been: a family walking through Revelation together, seeing Jesus more clearly night by night.

The good news is—this isn't the end! While this series may conclude, the journey continues. I'll be sharing details soon about upcoming studies and future series so we can keep growing together. There will be ways to stay connected online and through new teaching series that go even deeper into God's Word.

In the meantime, remember this:

"The Word of God is living and active." — Hebrews 4:12

The same Spirit that moved during these meetings will continue to feed you daily. Stay in the Word, stay in prayer, and stay in fellowship. God will continue the good work He has begun in you (Philippians 1:6).

And thank you for the love you've expressed—it means more than you know. I'm honored to walk this journey of Light with you.

With gratitude and joy in Christ,
Pastor Ed Anderson
