August, Again* Wins Two Prestigious Awards at Jeonju Project

Seoul, South Korea – May 8, 2025 – Docu+ is thrilled to announce that August, Again has been honored with two significant awards at this week's Jeonju Project at the Jeonju International Film Festival, further advancing its production and global accessibility. The film has received the JICA Award for Sound Mastering Production Support and the FURMO DT English Subtitle Production Support, marking a major milestone in its journey.

The JICA Award, presented by the Jeonju IT & CT Industry Promotion Agency, provides essential support for sound mastering production, ensuring that August, Again achieves the highest quality in audio refinement. This recognition underscores the film's artistic and technical excellence in documentary storytelling.

Additionally, the film has been granted the FURMO DT English Subtitle Production Support, enabling it to reach a broader international audience with professionally crafted English subtitles. This support enhances accessibility and ensures the film's message resonates globally.

“We are incredibly grateful for these awards,” said Director/Producer Danny Kim. “The support from JICA for sound mastering and FURMO DT for subtitles will significantly elevate August, Again, allowing us to present the film at its best to audiences worldwide.”

Docu+ extends its sincere appreciation to the Jeonju Project, JICA, and FURMO DT for their invaluable support and recognition. As August, Again moves forward, these awards will play a crucial role in shaping its final presentation and global reach.

About Jeonju Project

JEONJU Project is an industry program launched by the JEONJU International Film Festival in 2009 to strengthen its ties with the film industry and expand its role beyond exhibition. Originally known as JEONJU Project Market, it supported the development and production of innovative Korean and international films for 12 years. In 2021, it was rebranded as JEONJU Project to further refine its identity and expertise.
