

For Immediate Release

The 6th Annual ARTOber 2025 Festival Has Arrived in the Delaware River Valley Celebrating the Exceptional Art & Culture Exhibitions and Experiences for the Public to Enjoy during the 31 days of October

The 6th Annual ARTOber 2025 Festival welcomes art enthusiasts to attend ARTOber Art & Culture performances and exhibitions, talks and events, Makers Open Studio mini-master classes, delicious feasting spots and specialty stores for Artful experiences every weekend beginning October 3 until Halloween while enjoying the region's "best-in-the-USA" fall foliage.

Presented by the River Arts Collective - a coalition of art organizations, museums, galleries, artists, makers, area merchants and hospitality venues - that have joined together to establish the Delaware River Valley region as an epicenter for art and culture under the banner ARTOber.

Tourists, day trippers and local residents are invited to explore and discover the exceptional roster of painters, sculptors, ceramicists, weavers, woodworkers, and photographers exhibiting during ARTOber 2025. Spend the day or stay overnight in Bucks County's charming and contemporary accommodations. Dine at the region's roster of restaurants suited to every taste, and discover the bounty of what the Delaware River Valley has to offer. For additional guidance on where to Shop, Stay, Dine, go to <https://www.visitbuckscounty.com/>

Local residents and visitors to Bucks and Hunterdon Counties can download the self-guided ARTOber map and brochure to find information on the ARTOber Festival programming and events at <https://riverartscollective.org/>

Tune in to WDVR 89.7FM for ARTOber updates and conversations with artists and art organizations talking about their exhibitions and artistic practice on "Let's Talk" with Andy Kin and Bill Tucker on Mondays at 3pm in October.

Follow us on FB: RiverArtsCollective and Insta:@ riverartscollective

Contact: Amy Rosi | 917 940-9763 | arosi@aroscommunications.com