

SUPER POWERS

Letting Life Shine

Being receptive and listening to Life is actually listening to our own sense of beauty (gut), feeling (heart), and values/thoughts (head), speaking in us and singing to us, sweet songs of love. Our Super Powers awaken in us a sense that there is something missing from the world, some un-lived potential, and that this potential is ours alone, filling us with inspiration and gradually igniting our inner flame of radiance and vitality.

		Core Motivation	Perceptual Tendency (what we notice) & Devotional Response (how we listen & respond to others and to Life)
Beautiful Body	8	To lead	To notice where leadership is needed & chivalrously and nobly provide it	8s are aware of the power dynamics in a situation and exercise their ability to lead in a way that helps others to meet their goals (rather than exploiting their leadership position through control).
	9	To be present	To notice the energy of the situations & consciously balance it	9s allow themselves to be fully present in the situation so that they bring balance to the situation based on their inner knowing (instead of on their fear of not rocking the boat).
	1	To perfect (verb: to refine)	To notice small imperfections & tenderly correct them	1s notice imperfections and are able to focus more broadly on inherent worth and value so as to give diplomatic feedback (rather than to sharply criticize).
Open (Feeling) Heart	2	To nurture	To notice gaps in emotional support & lovingly bridge them	2s notice when others need help or social support and are able to tap into their own generosity in order to give without feeling as though they are denying their own needs.
	3	To aspire	To notice opportunities to excel & joyfully seize them	3s see how to excel at what they do in order to deeply contribute to others (instead of focusing on getting approval from others or on other external rewards).
	4	To validate	To notice emotional incongruities & tactfully remedy them	4s notice emotional inhibition in others and are able to accept it; as a result, they are able to thoughtfully draw people out and encourage them (not force them) to talk about their feelings.
Discerning Mind (Values)	5	To teach	To notice knowledge gaps & patiently fill them	5s notice how ideas are linked and teach according to the needs of others (rather than according to their own needs to be overly comprehensive or abstruse).
	6	To serve	To notice where service is needed & confidently provide it	6s notice how it is possible to be of service and to render that service out of inner assurance (instead of out the desire to please, show loyalty, or otherwise maintain a defensive posture).
	7	To link	To notice potential connections & steadfastly make them	7s see many possibilities in a situation without losing focus and getting lost in them, and are thus able to help others follow one or more of the possibilities through to completion.
