THE BENEFITS OF EATING GAME MEAT

South africa's rich fauna are fast becoming the healthier alternative to farmed livestock. The fact that local game is free-roaming and consume their natural diet contributes to the lower fat content, and the higher levels of iron and zinc.

In essence – they are 100% organic and have lived free and happy lives. When you consume Thaba Tholo game meat, you are consuming meat from animals that are:

1. 100% free - roaming in a wildlife conservancy
2. Free to consume their natural diet
3. Ethically harvested and humanely treated
4. Unstained by modern farming practices
5. A sustainable resource

Our animals have 100% free reign on our wildlife conservancy. They enjoy a wholly natural diet, untainted by modern farming practices. We pride ourselves on our sustainability.

Thaba Thola fresh game meat and biltong products are the real thing. The difference is in the taste.
