

PATH TO FREEDOM

Meaningful actions begin with ideas; mighty movements are premised on great principles. The Path to Freedom monument gives today's generation of Americans a tangible way to rededicate themselves to the principles our nation's founding generation advanced and for which they sacrificed: "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

The Path to Freedom monument is conceived as a free-standing, life-size bronze sculpture of Mary Katherine Goddard, the woman who printed the Declaration of Independence. It will be placed at Veterans Park in Lakeland. Its creator, Becky Ault of ART Design Group, is an award-winning sculptor known for historical accuracy. Hundreds of her sculptures are permanently installed throughout America, including on the Washington Mall.

In the unique way we will recognize donors, today's Americans can "add their signatures" to the document that brilliantly articulated the aspirational beliefs that influenced the history of the entire world. On the occasion of the Declaration of Independence's 250th anniversary, it is as if the founders are handing us their quill pen, asking if we still believe in the ideals they advocated. We invite you to answer "yes!" and join us in this exciting and meaningful project. We would love to talk to you more about your involvement!
